By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
The 100th anniversary of the founding of Granite City Steel will be highlighted by a public Centennial Open House Friday and Saturday, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. on both days.

House will be available on the GC's employee parking lots, extending from Lee Avenue to a point beyond Nash Street, bounded by 20th and 21st streets.

Unlimited street parking in this area will be permitted by the City of Granite City on Friday and Saturday, it was announced.

It is estimated the main tour will take about an hour and a half, adding time for an inspection of the exhibit area, the total visit could last about two hours, a GC spokesman advised.

Visitors will be given a ride through view of the Blast Furnace, then a walk-through look at the Steel Works Basic Oxygen Furnace Shop, Blooming Mill and 80-Inch Hot Strip Mill.

Persons who desire also may take an optional tour of GC's wastewater treatment facilities near Horseshoe Lake. The plant went into operation and was dedicated last year.

The treatment plant tour will last about 45 minutes and buses will depart from the Lee Avenue lot periodically during the two days.

City compensation coverage to grow

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A new insurance problem that will raise insurance premiums by a substantial amount and require revision of sick leave policies is confronting Granite City as the result of municipal insurance legislation passed three years ago, Lance Callis, Granite City attorney, told City Council members in a regular meeting Tuesday night. Callis told the aldermen that it will be up to them to adjust sick leave provisions if they wish to avoid double liability payments to Granite City policemen and firemen in the event of on-the-job injuries, since the city now is going to be required to pay premiums for workmen's compensation to cover employees of those two departments.

The attorney said that at this time he has no estimate of the increase in premium costs to include policemen and firemen in the city's workmen's compensation coverage, but that it is certain to be a "substantial raise."

According to Callis, the city has been notified by Kemper Insurance Co. of St. Louis, carriers of the city's workmen's compensation insurance, that a premium change will be made because the city's present rate is based on coverage that does not include Granite City policemen and firemen.

The attorney explained that firemen and policemen formerly were excluded from workmen's compensation coverage, but that in 1975 legislation was approved which provided that firemen and policemen "were no longer excluded" from such coverage.

Several aldermen suggested that a revision of the sick leave ordinance should be undertaken to compensate for the additional insurance coverage.

Callis noted that workmen's compensation covers the employees for "on-the-job" injuries or casualties and said that "there are several things you can do."

He noted the council could provide for employees to pay back to the city sick leave benefits in instances where they also were covered by insurance, or that the ordinance could be revised in several other ways.

On a motion by Alderman Warren Decatur, the council voted to refer the matter to the council's ordinance and sick leave committees and the city attorney for a report and

3 cities seek part of Depot

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

The city of Madison will enter into a cooperative effort with Granite City and Venice to acquire 321-plus acres of land and 17 buildings at the Granite City Army Installation that have been determined to be surplus government property and available for disposal.

The Madison City Council, at its meeting Tuesday night, authorized Mayor Mike Sasyk to enter into a cooperative attempt with Venice and Granite City to acquire the land.

A Tri-City Regional Port District statement Tuesday related that "Mayor Mike Sasyk of the City of Madison, Mayor William Ebersold of the City of Venice, and Mayor Paul Schuler of the City of Granite City have conferred with the Tri-City Regional Port District board regarding the proper government vehicle to represent local interests in procuring the 321-plus acres declared surplus by the Army of the United States located at the old Granite City Engineer Depot site.

Township Supervisor and Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer was also present.

"There was a common agreement that the land should be handled by the government entity that can best represent the interest of the community in the promotion of industrial and commercial development of the tract, and that some study should be made by the cities and the Tri-City Regional Port District of the structuring of an understanding that would accomplish the public purpose which was the concern of all."

"Inasmuch as notice of interest has to be filed with the General Services Administration of the federal government on or before the 22nd day of May, 1978, it was concluded that such notices of interest will be filed separately by the cities and by the Tri-City Regional Port District.

"Such an action would not prevent the cooperation of the cities and the Port in acquiring the property for the Tri-City area, but at the same time it would preserve the respective interest of the parties until such time as a common understanding could be reached."

Sasyk told the council he will get into immediate contact with General Services Administration (GSA) and let it be known that the city of Madison is interested in the property and will enter into a cooperative venture with the neighboring cities.

"If we can obtain this property it will be a real asset to all three cities in way of employment and additional revenue for the cities."

"There are limitless uses for this land and buildings."

County's sewer grant reduced

The Madison County Board acted Wednesday morning to give the Madison County Special Sewer Committee authority to file condemnation proceedings, if necessary, to gain possession or right-of-way for 109 parcels of property still needed for construction of sanitary sewers in Nameoki, Chotau and Venice townships.

At the same time, the county was told that the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency may withdraw $606,754 of its $12.6 million grant offer to bring the grant in line with the new construction contract.

Walter "Dick" Sparks, chairman of the special sewer committee, told the County Board members that notification that the $606,754 is to be withdrawn from the grant offer probably will not have any effect on the project, since those funds will be available to pay 75 percent of any cost overruns or change orders necessary during the construction.

"If the cost begins to escalate, there will be no problem getting the state to pick up the other 75 percent of the eligible cost. This does not mean that we are going to lose that money. Actually, we will probably get it," Sparks stated.

A letter from the EPA indicated the bids for the construction from the G. H. Steinberg and S. M. Wilson construction firms showed that 75 percent cost of the covered work will amount to less than the estimate used for preparing the grant offer.

Therefore, the amount of the grant has been adjusted so it will cover 75 percent of eligible costs. The letter set a date for the county to agree with the reduction of May 31, and stated, "Receipt of a written refusal or failure to return the properly executed grant amendment within the specified time will subject both the grant amendment and grant agreement to cancellation consideration."

The board also agreed to execute an agreement with the Illinois Department of Transportation which is necessary before any work can be done along state right-of-ways.

In the agreement, the county agrees to hold the state harmless for any lawsuits, damage or injuries caused by the sewer work.

The ordinance giving condemnation authority to the committee designates Larry Calvo of Granite City as the condemnation attorney.

Sparks said that about 109 parcels of land are marked either for right-of-way agreements or must be purchased or leased by the county for the construction of lift stations.

About half need only signatures giving the county the authority to construct the sewers under the land and the other half will have to be acquired for lift stations, Sparks explained.

Ground was broken Monday at North Street and Route 3 for construction and County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City said the groundbreaking marked the beginning of "one of the greatest things to have happened to this part of the county. He requested Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles to prepare a letter of thanks and congratulations to be sent to the contractors, who built their bid price for 18 months, and to the sewer committee and Chamber of Commerce, thanking them for their help in making the project a reality.

A suit filed by Nameoki Township officials against the township's former supervisor, Louis Whitsell, has been dismissed by Associate Judge Clayton Williams in Edwardsville.

The township is seeking to recover a total of $9,598 paid to Whitsell's wife, Del, for her part-time work in the township's general assistance office while Whitsell was supervisor. recommendation in the next meeting Tuesday, May 22. In a related action, the council enacted an ordinance creating the position of safety manager, a post that had been filled by Mayor Schuler with the appointment of Richard Portell, a former employee at Granite City Steel.

The ordinance provides that the position be a part-time job with payment at the rate of $5 per hour.

The safety managers position had been recommended by the insurance carrier which suggested the city initiate safety programs to cut down on the number of claims under the workmen's compensation policies.

Portell recommended to the council during the same meeting that it become mandatory for employees of the street department to wear safety shoes and hard hats.

In a subsequent discussion, this rule also was considered applicable to employees of the sewage treatment plant, but resulted in a debate over whether or not the city should buy such equipment or whether it should be furnished by the employees.

On a motion by Parmley, the council agreed that safety shoes and hard hats should be purchased from clothing allowances in the departments for which clothing allowances are provided, and that departments in which there are no clothing allowances the department heads should make provisions in the new upcoming budget for such purchases.

The street department provides clothing allowance to the employees. The treatment plant employees do not have such allowances since coveralls and other required clothing items are furnished on a rental basis.

Employment in all three cities would benefit. Our acquisition of the property would also benefit the Port Authority," Sasyk said.

A letter to Mayor Sasyk from William B. Morrison, acting GSA regional administrator of Region 5 of GSA, said: "A portion of the U.S. Army St. Louis Area Support Center in Madison County, Illinois, consisting of 321.88 acres of land and 17 buildings have been determined to be surplus government property and available for disposal."

"Included in the attached notice are a description of the property and procedural instructions to be followed if any public agency desires to submit an application for the property. Please note particularly the name and address given for filing written notice, the time limitation within which written notice must be filed, and the required content of such notice."

"In order to ensure that all interested parties are informed of the availability of this property, please post additional copies of the attached notice in appropriate conspicuous places."

"You also may be interested in Section 803 of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended, 41 Stat. 1108, a copy of which is attached for ready reference. If rezoning is contemplated, it is requested that the information required by Section 803(b) be forwarded this office within the same 20-calendar-day period prescribed in the attached notice."

"We will not delay sale of the property pending such zoning for more than 30 days from the date of this notice. However, if you will not be able to accomplish the desired zoning before the property is placed on sale, we will advise prospective purchasers of the pending zoning in process."

"A notice of surplus determination also is being mailed to the Honorable James R. Thompson, governor of Illinois, the Honorable Paul Schuler, mayor of Granite City, the Honorable William M. Eberhardt, mayor of Venice, the Honorable Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board, Edwardsville, Carl A. Ranft, general manager, Tri-City Regional Port District, Granite City, the State Clearinghouse, Bureau of the Budget, Springfield, and the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, St. Louis, Mo."

The land in question, if it were not a government reservation, would be in the city of Madison, according to city officials.

Expect 3,000 at 'Break'

More than 3,000 visitors are expected this weekend in the Granite City area to attend the second annual "Break" of the Flipper Tail CB Radio Club, scheduled Sunday at the Chouteau Township Hall, Route 203 North, Mitchell, north of Interstate 70.

The public is invited to attend the "Break." Admission is free, Ken DeWitt, Flipper Tail president, said today.

A wide variety of activities is planned from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. Sunday.

DeWitt said CB clubs from several states have indicated they will have representatives at the "break," plus many CB'ers from clubs in the bi-state metropolitan area and from surrounding Illinois communities.

Games, booths, displays and refreshments will be part of the day's activities, DeWitt said. Live entertainment will be presented by Country Addition and dancing is planned.

Trophies will be awarded to clubs and individuals, Cole Beatty, Flipper Tail vice president and public relations chairman, advised.

The awards will be given to the largest out-of-state club, largest in-state club, best-dressed club, farthest-traveled club, farthest-traveled individual CB'er, oldest CB'er, "ugliest" CB'er, and best-dressed under 12 years who belongs to a club with five or more members 18 years and older.

Numerous gifts will be awarded during the day, Beatty said, including a color portable television, hindquarter of beef, 40 channel CB radio, hi-fi stereo and a police scanner.

"We hope everyone will come out and join in the fun," DeWitt said.

"The Flipper Tail CB Radio Club is not your usual run of the mill type club," he added.

Throughout the year, its members support different organizations and individuals in need.

Shirner Crippled Children's Hospitals, March of Dimes, Kidney Foundation and Heart Fund are among the charitable groups aided by the club.

Families whose homes are destroyed by fire and others facing varying crises in their lives, likewise are helped.

Flipper Tails sponsor a Little League soccer team in Granite City and a men's softball team in the GC Park District program.

Sentence upheld in murder of woman, 78

The Fifth District Appellate Court has upheld the murder conviction of Steve Strubberg, 21, of Kirkpatrick Homes, and the 75-to-150-year sentence imposed by Circuit Judge Moses Harrison II in May 1976.

Strubberg was found guilty by a jury April 24, 1976, of murdering 78-year-old Pearl Giffin in her Kirkpatrick Homes apartment Feb. 6, 1976. Mrs. Giffin was beaten to death with a baseball bat while she slept in her bed.

Two youths, who were juveniles at the time of the murder, testified that Strubberg planned the burglary and then entered the apartment with the two. They said Strubberg struck Mrs. Giffin several times with the bat after one of the juveniles refused to do it. They then stole $12 from the apartment.

In his appeal, Strubberg's attorneys contended that the sentence was excessive, improper cross-examination of defense witnesses was allowed, and that inadmissible hearsay evidence was presented at the trial.

Park pool will open on June 3

With caulk being replaced in the Wilson Park swimming pool, to be followed by sanding and painting, Saturday, June 3, has been chosen for the start of the 1978 swimming season there.

On the advice of Willard Given and Associates, test borings have been made and have shown that the pool is safe.

The replacement of caulking is intended to reduce loss of water from the pool.

To help keep interest high and sometimes to raise funds for worthwhile projects, the club holds barbecues in the summer months, plus outings to St. Louis Cardinal baseball games, weekend campouts, swimming and fishing trips and visits to CB breaks sponsored by clubs in various sections of the country.

"We have some families who are second generation members," Beatty said.

The club meets on Monday evenings in the 300 Room at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl. Persons interested in citizen band radio are invited to attend.

"We want to thank many local business firms who are helping to make our CB Break a successful project again this year," DeWitt said.

10,000 may tour plant

Over 10,000 visitors are expected to see the Granite City Steel plant this weekend, a spokesman said today. National Steel Corporation's local division is celebrating the GCS centennial with a two-day open house program on Friday and Saturday.

In addition to a tour of various operations, guests will be able to see a large array of finished products made from steel produced here.

Tours will begin at 9 a.m. each day. The last complete plant tour — which should last from 1½ to 2 hours — will begin at 4 p.m., although optional tours of the new Wastewater Treatment Plant near Horseshoe Lake will be available as late as 6:30 p.m. That tour will last about 45 minutes.

All tours begin at the main parking lot near 21st Street and Lee Avenue. Signs will direct visitors to the starting point.

Parking will be available on the lot on nearby streets, which are being exempted from the usual parking restrictions during the "Granite City Steel Days" celebration officially proclaimed by Mayor Paul Schuler.

GCS officials here requested that all children making the tour be adequately supervised by adults. Visitors will do considerable walking and climbing of stairs, and are advised to wear comfortable shoes.

E.G. Schmitt resigns plan Commission job

Edwin G. Schmitt, a member of the Granite City Plan Commission for the past 20 years and a former chairman of the commission, announced his resignation Tuesday night in a letter to Mayor Paul Schuler and City Council members.

Schmitt, a retired district and division manager of the Illinois Given and Associates, test borings have been made and have shown that the pool is safe.

The replacement of caulking is intended to reduce loss of water from the pool.

He was the first chairman of the Plan Commission and served as its chairman from the time of its inception until the early 1960s. He has been a member of the commission since that time.

Council members accepted the resignation with regret and instructed Mayor Paul Schuler to write a letter to Schmitt expressing the city's appreciation for his long service on the commission.

Found innocent in battery case

After about 90 minutes of deliberations yesterday, a jury in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville found Joseph N. Ybarra, 31, of Granite City, innocent of aggravated battery.

Ybarra had been charged with beating Ralph Drennen, 34, of 1012 Grand Ave., Madison, with a tire iron at Niedringhaus Avenue and Chestnut Street in March.

Testimony indicated Drennen had been driving in a reckless manner, nearly striking Ybarra's car. Ybarra pulled at him and said Drennen threw a snowball at him and then approached Ybarra's auto. Words were exchanged and the two men then fought, it was revealed at the trial.

The jury returned the innocent verdict at 1:10 p.m. yesterday. Ybarra was defended by Attorney Amerik A. Kachigan. Assistant State's Attorney Stephanie Robbins presented the prosecution case.

CARNIVAL SITE on the campus adjacent to Coolidge Junior High School. Tuesday afternoon as workers of Century 21, owner of the carnival, load the last pieces of equipment onto trucks to be hauled. Concern has been voiced on the responsibility of restoring the field to its original condition. The owners of the carnival agreed to repair the field at their expense. Much of the damage is due to rains which drenched the Quad-City area several days during the carnival. Proceeds will aid in the lighting of the Fehling Road sports complex.

Charged after disturbance

Jerry Warmack, 32, of 2207 Iowa St., was released on $100 cash bond at noon Tuesday on a disorderly conduct charge stemming from a disturbance at the Courthouse Tavern, 916 Niedringhaus Ave., at 11:45 p.m. Monday.

Witnesses alleged Warmack became angered while in the tavern and threw bar stools through three front windows of the tavern, put a chair through the glass on the juke box, broke the door glass to the beer cooler, and threw bar stools over the bar, breaking numerous bottles of liquor, glasses and bar fixtures.

Damage was estimated at $4,000. Tavern officials alleged Warmack had been barred Sunday night from the tavern and was angry over that.

Police reported they stopped him on a motorcycle at Niedringhaus Avenue and Cleveland Boulevard a short time after the incident and charged him with disorderly conduct.

Petition drive for referendums

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, 2600 Angela Drive, has been named area coordinator for petition drives the Coalition for Political Honesty has launched to get two propositions on the November general election ballot.

The organization is attempting to gather 625,000 signatures by Aug. 21 on petitions to put an open primary proposal and a political honesty referendum on the ballot. About one-third of the necessary signatures have already been obtained, according to Patrick Quinn, secretary-treasurer of the Coalition.

The open primary proposal would give Illinois voters a chance to choose whether they wish to have primary election voters declare their political party before voting, or whether they should be allowed to keep their party preference secret, Quinn said.

The political honesty referendum would force state legislators to outlaw "double dipping," holding two or more tax-paid jobs simultaneously, if the legislators are to be allowed to vote themselves pay increases, he explained.

A state commission has recently recommended that the salary of the governor and supreme court judges be increased from $50,000 per year to $75,000, and that the pay for state legislators be increased from $20,000 to $30,000, he said. "The raises would make ours the highest-paid state officials in the nation," Quinn said.

"Right now, dozens of state legislators are double-dippers who hold highly paid city and county jobs in addition to drawing $20,000 a year legislative paychecks. Why should hard-pressed Illinois families pay more to support these tax-guzzlers?" he asked. He noted that the Coalition for Political Honesty was responsible in 1976 for a petition drive which took away the 108-year-old right of legislators to collect their entire annual pay on the first day of each fiscal year.

He said persons in this area who would like to help collect petitions should contact Mrs. Hawkins at 931-3891.

Mrs. Hawkins noted funds for the drive are short and said only one copy of the blank petitions will be sent to persons who will be able to make additional copies.

She noted recent efforts to get the petitions signed have shown that 80 to 85 percent of those asked to sign have done so willingly.

Quinn noted the Coalition is supported only by grassroots contributions and said contributions may be sent to 28 Madison, Oak Park, Ill., 60302. "All contributions will be welcome and a copy of our financial report will be on file with the State Board of Elections in Springfield," he said.

Area study of effect of eggs in diet

The effects of eating three to six whole eggs every day on serum cholesterol and lipoprotein levels in healthy young men is being studied by a team of research investigators from the St. Louis University School of Medicine and the Washington University School of Medicine.

The team has been awarded $131,000 by the American Egg Board, Chicago, to continue a two-year study which began in August 1977. Robert E. Olson, M.D., Ph.D., professor and chairman of the Edward A. Doisy Department of Biochemistry, St. Louis U. School of Medicine, is project director.

Although only preliminary results are available at this time, data from the 1977 study indicates relatively little change in serum cholesterol values occurred in volunteer subjects as a result of adding three eggs per day to their basic diets.

No significant changes in body weight or other physiological indicators of the subjects have been recorded. Dr. Olson and his research colleagues are investigating the role of egg feeding in medical student volunteers under carefully controlled conditions.

The research team is measuring the effects of egg ingestion on serum lipids, lipoproteins and their peptide components, and cholesterol binding reserve — as well as any side effects, such as allergy or changes in blood coagulation. A search is being made for evidence of abnormal lipoprotein metabolism in the subjects during the egg feeding periods.

Each student consumes from three to six eggs per day. All meals, 21 per week for each student, are being served in a metabolic kitchen at St. Louis U., supervised by physicians and dietitians.

The study consists of a four week, egg-free control period; two experimental periods five weeks in length during which three and six eggs, respectively, are fed each student; and a final control period. A vitamin and mineral supplement supplying two times the recommended daily allowances of ten vitamins and six trace minerals is given daily. All diets are weighed, and blood samples are drawn weekly.

In addition to the principal investigator, Dr. Olson, collaborating investigators include Gustav Schenfeld, M.D., director, Lipid Research Center, Washington U. School of Medicine, and William H. Elliott, Ph.D., professor of Biochemistry, St. Louis U. School of Medicine.

Record traffic arrests

Driving too fast in Granite City may be hazardous to your pocketbook, according to a report released Tuesday by Chief of Police Ronald Vetter.

The report of Police Department activities during the month of April listed a total of 667 traffic arrests during the month—the largest number of such arrests in a single month in many years.

The report showed, however, that the number of accidents during April continued to increase over those for the same month a year ago, with a total of 157 accidents last month, up from a total of 137 in April 1977.

These included 44 injury accidents last month in which 63 persons were hurt, compared with 32 injury accidents in which 41 persons were injured in the same month of the previous year.

One hundred and thirteen property damage accidents occurred in April, up from 105 during April 1977. There were no fatalities last month and none was recorded the previous year.

In addition to the traffic cases, police made 86 other arrests during the month for a total of 753 arrests. Forty-six additional charges were filed, making an April total of 799 charges.

These compare with a total of 135 traffic arrests and 124 other arrests for a total of 257 arrests in April 1977. Thirty-seven additional charges were filed at that time to bring the total charges to 294 in April 1977.

Vetter reported at the same time that major crimes in eight categories declined substantially last month, with a total of 190 crimes reported, or 38 less than the total of 229 reported during the same month a year ago.

Police cleared 133 cases by arrest during April, up seven from the 126 cleared by arrests in April 1977, the report showed. While there were slight increases in the number of assault and larceny crimes, the number of burglary cases totaled 47, down 30, and the number of auto burglaries totaled 26, down from 41.

The report showed no homicide cases during April, but listed two forcible rape cases, up from none in the same month a year ago.

There were two robbery cases last month, down from three a year ago, and 21 assault cases, up from 17. Larceny cases totaled 79, up from 76. Auto theft cases dropped by two from 15 a year ago to 13 last month.

April police actions brought to 1,897 the total number of charges filed in a total of 1,633 arrests for the first four months of this year.

There was a total of 1,186 charges involved in 1,013 arrests during the same period in 1977.

GC clean air grant approved

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has approved a grant of $21,401 for the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board for enforcement purposes during the 1978-79 fiscal year, according to an announcement by Illinois

Senator Charles Percy at Washington.

Sen. Percy's office said the grant is effective as of today, May 18.

The Granite City Clean Air Board has received federal funds annually to maintain its enforcement schedule.

GC Steel

Planning and preparation have been in progress for several months, with special Centennial and Open House committees handling the details.

Much consideration was given to the selection of a main tour route before the decision was made to cover only the basic steelmaking operation and not open up other departments as well, a GCS spokesman said.

Difficulty in handling large crowds of people efficiently and safely was anticipated if departments all over the plant were open to inspection, it was reported.

Granite City Steel's last open house was held in 1974, at which time more than 5,000 people toured the plant in a two-day period.

An even larger crowd is expected this week because the event has received wider publicity due to the plant's Centennial celebration.

Four planners also point out that a considerable amount of walking, as well as climbing of steps, will be necessary on the tour, and persons not accustomed to such activity may want to consider whether or not they will be able to negotiate the route.

Everyone is advised to wear comfortable, low-heeled shoes.

Groups of children must be accompanied by a sufficient number of adults to keep them under supervision.

Babies in arms will not be allowed on the tour, and it was suggested it will be very difficult for anyone with small children to keep up with the tour.

At the Blast Furnace, the first area to be visited on the tour, visitors will be made at the Coke Ovens near the enclosed one-spot coke pushing emission control-system, which was installed last year, and at a location permitting a good look at "A" and "B" Blast Furnaces.

Steelworks viewing areas will be on the charging floor at the Basic Oxygen Furnace (BOF), the soaking pit platform and high above the Blooming Mill, and all along the 80-inch Mill from the slab furnaces to the finishing mill.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., May 18, 1978 Page 7

The tour route also will include the new baghouse near the BOF, but visitors will remain on the bus at that point.

Visitors will leave the Hot Strip Mill via the passageway beneath the mill, enter the Hot Strip motor room and exit the building into an open area just north of the Slab Yard.

In this area, a large tent will be set up where souvenirs of the Centennial celebration will be distributed and exhibits, arranged by Granite City Steel and its customers, will be displayed.

As one leaves the exhibit area through a gate at 18th Street and Madison Avenue, visitors may board a bus for a trip back to the Lee Avenue parking lots.

Visiting Granite City Steel today are several hundred customers and other special guests who have been invited to help GCS celebrate its 100th year.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler has proclaimed Friday and Saturday as Granite City Steel Days and has called upon "Citizens to join in saluting Granite City Steel and its people in celebrating this Centennial event."

Granite City Steel dates its history to the construction of the Granite Iron Rolling Mills in St. Louis in 1878. That plant furnished steel for the production of graniteware at the nearby St. Louis Stamping Works.

When sales of graniteware continued to grow, the Niedringhaus family, which built both plants, decided that expansion was necessary.

They bought land in 1892 for a new plant and town—at the present site of Granite City. Granite City Steel has been owned since 1971 by National Steel Corporation.

Carnival adds $6,784 to sports field light fund

A total of $10,297 is now in the Granite City South High sports field lighting fund, it was announced Tuesday by the lighting fund committee chairman, James Dumont.

"The fund increased by $6,784 with the proceeds from the carnival held last week. The weather held down the attendance which greatly reduced the amount we were hoping for," Dumont said.

The condition of the field used by the carnival north of Coolidge Junior High has raised questions as to who will be financially responsible for its repair. The cost to restore the field to its original condition will be paid for by the Century 21, owner of the carnival, a spokesman said.

Profits made by two stands manned by the South Letterman's Club and the South Booster Club have yet to be announced.

A "Thermometer" board will be erected in front of the school to show the progress of the fund which has a goal of $75,000.

Claims police charges untrue

Dennis L. Meyers, 24, of 2816 Emzee St., who has been charged with resisting arrest and obstructing a police officer, this week disagreed with official accounts of the May 9 incident in which he was arrested.

Meyers alleged police first bothered a young woman who was seated on her car near Meyers home and when Meyers came out to see what they were doing, a sergeant ordered him to take a spread-eagle position against a car and struck him. He contended he did not resist police or give them any reason to hit him. He said the sergeant then followed him into the house and scuffled with him for no apparent reason.

Police then towed several of Meyers cars, which Meyers claims were licensed and legally parked.

Driver charged

Joseph Valencia, 21, of 1781 Bremen Ave., was charged with reckless driving after his auto went through two yards and struck a parked car in a driveway in the 3000 block of Washington Avenue at 12:50 a.m. Tuesday.

Valencia's auto turned from Nameoki Road south on Washington Avenue, according to witnesses, and then went through two yards before striking the parked car of Thomas Patton, 3030 Washington Ave., in Patton's driveway, police were told.

Arrests at Venice Finish Line office

Venice police closed the Finish Line Express, 306 Broadway, at 2:26 p.m. Tuesday and made their first arrests since the horse race bet messenger service opened there this year.

As police were taking Mrs. Anna M. Young, 37, of East St. Louis, to the police station, an officer allegedly said, "I'll be glad when this is all over."

Mrs. Young allegedly replied, "Me, too, before some one gets hurt."

Mrs. Young was arrested with a warrant obtained May 12 charging two counts of gambling. Police were unable to serve the warrant until Tuesday, when the operation reopened.

Mrs. Young was released at 3:17 p.m. Tuesday on $300 cash bond, with a court appearance scheduled June 8 at 1 p.m. in Granite City.

Miss Patricia A. Williams, 22, also of East St. Louis, was arrested on a city ordinance for not having a valid city business license. She was released on a $55 cash bond with the same court date on the charge.

Chief Ralph D. Brawley said he was notified by telephone by the Venice city clerk at about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday that an injunction has been issued by the Third Judicial Circuit Court. The restraining order forbids Venice police to interfere with the operation of the Finish Line Express, specifically in connection with state gambling laws, until the court further rules.

Pre-trial motions on a gambling charge against Queen Ester Dean, East St. Louis, an employee of the Granite City Finish Line Express office, were to have been heard yesterday by Associate Judge George Moran, but the hearing on the motions was postponed until 10:30 a.m. Monday on request of the Madison County state's attorney's office.

State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron was pledged to have the gambling charges against her to trial as soon as possible to resolve the legality of her arrests by Granite City police.

There have been several continuances in the case. Meanwhile, Granite City police are watching the Finish Line office here and have orders to again close it and arrest employees "if any business is transacted," city aldermen were told Tuesday night during the City Council meeting.

Associate Judge Philip Rarrick has issued a temporary restraining order prohibiting Granite City police from enforcing a city ordinance against horse race messenger services, or any other gambling ordinance or resolution, but City Attorney Lance Callis said the ordinance does not prohibit enforcing the state's regular gambling code, he believes.

Hearings on whether the temporary restraining order should be made permanent are to be scheduled within the next few days, court officials said.

GC woman makes Army history at White House

Christine L. Crews of Granite City made Army history Wednesday when she became the first woman from the U.S. Army to serve in a Presidential honor guard at the White House.

The 28-year-old specialist is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Crews, 2933 Dogwood Drive.

She and four female colleagues, representing each branch of the military, made their debut yesterday morning in the White House honor guard to greet Zambian President Kenneth Kaunda.

The 21-member cordon formed an L-shaped line inside the White House, next to the Blue Room, as President Carter welcomed the Zambian chief executive.

The normal presidential honor contingent of 225, which would have included 10 women, was reduced after the ceremony was moved indoors because of a soggy White House lawn.

Miss Crews, who is six feet tall, meets the honor guard requirement of being at least five feet, 10 inches.

She volunteered for the contingent and was selected in March, some time after five Air Force women wrote to First Lady Rosalynn Carter protesting the all-male military honor guard.

The Granite City woman joined the Army in January 1976 for a three-year tour of duty. She has been assigned as a medical secretary at the Pentagon and at Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington, D.C., prior to her present assignment.

As a member of the presidential honor guard, Miss Crews is stationed at Fort Myer, Va., where she is lifting weights to build up her upper arm strength to more easily handle the M-14 rifle for long periods of time.

It's all "Spit and polish" now for Miss Crews, who reports liking Army life and is very excited about her new assignment.

Mitchell woman stabs would-be abductors

A 31-year-old Mitchell woman, who was pulled partially into a car by two men at 3:45 a.m. today, escaped after stabbing both men with a kitchen knife, she told Madison County sheriff's deputies after the incident.

The woman said she was walking along the south shoulder of East Chain of Rocks Road near the Chain of Rocks Mobile Home Park in Mitchell when a light blue car stopped suddenly near her and a passenger asked her if she wanted a ride.

She told the two men in the car to leave her alone and she continued to walk. The passenger then reached out and grabbed her blouse, pulling her toward the car, she said.

She pulled a kitchen knife from her clothing, which she said she carries when walking alone at night, and stabbed the passenger in the throat or upper chest.

The man yelled, "She got me," and the driver said, "She's crazy. Let's drop her!" she related.

The driver then grabbed her by the hair and tried to pull her further into the car until she exited him in the left forearm, deputies were told.

The driver then released her hair and stated, "Let's go." The men drove east on Chain of Rocks Road at a high rate of speed, the victim related.

They found their car was a two-door light blue auto, probably a late 1970s model.

Concert Saturday night by 300 GC band pupils

Music will fill the air here throughout the day and evening on Saturday. The occasion will be the Granite City School district's sixth annual all-city band festival.

A busy day is planned Saturday, with a total of five rehearsal sessions scheduled for three bands. Participants will be 300 selected musicians from the fourth through 12th grades.

Dr. Alexander L. Pickard, director of bands at the University of Missouri, will lead the rehearsals and then serve as guest conductor for a public concert at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Memorial Gymnasium, Madison Avenue and Namecki Road.

Elementary students (fourth through sixth grades) will rehearse from 8:30 to 10 a.m. Saturday.

Junior high musicians (seventh and eighth grades) will rehearse from 11 a.m. to noon and also from 2 to 3 p.m.

Senior high band members (ninth through 12th grades) are scheduled to practice Saturday from 10 to 11 a.m. and then from 2 to 4 p.m.

The band festival program will be as follows:

Senior high band — Harps Across the Sea by Sousa, Light Cavalry by F. Von Suppe-Fillmore, Festival by Clifton

Williams and Twentiana by Ales.

Junior high band — Days of Glory by J. Cavas, The Music Man by Wilson-Reed, Rhapsodie Moderata by A. O. Davis and Fiesta Calypso by T. Meyers.

Elementary band — 1001 Nights from Scheherazade by Rimsky-Korsakov-Henderson, Courage March by Bennett, Salute to Brahms by Kinyon and Tugatoon, also by Kinyon.

Dr. Pickard's degrees include that of doctor of musical arts from the Eastman School of Music. His bachelor degree is from the Julliard School of Music, and his master degree from Iowa University.

He has made numerous trumpet solo and brass ensemble appearances in concerts, television programs and school events.

He has been guest conductor at many band festivals, and has served as a judge of marching bands, concert bands and brass groups.

Dr. Pickard has served as president of the State College Band Directors' National Association. At the University of Missouri-Columbia, he teaches concert band and conducts.

Musical units there include the marching band, the concert organization (wind instrumentalists) and the symphonic band. Tickets for Saturday's concert are available from band students and at music stores. Cost is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

The combined high school band this weekend will include South and North students, while the junior high musicians will be from Frather, Grigsby and Coolidge.

Those in the grade school band will be from the Namecki and Lake division bands.

Free TV sets . . . almost

Granite City firemen may have enjoyed new color television sets in their respective fire stations, but the proposal to acquire the sets was withdrawn before it could be given official consideration by council members in a regular meeting Tuesday night.

In a letter read to the council, Fire Chief Don Parente informed the aldermen that the Fire Pension Board was planning to invest $40,000 in time certificates.

The Ladue Inner Belt Bank in St. Louis had offered, Parente said, to provide one 19-inch color television for each $10,000 invested in certificates of deposit — or a total of four televisions for the amount proposed for investment.

Parente suggested that the sets could be obtained by four individuals — not members of the pension board — acting as sponsors. He noted that it would be a violation of the pension code for board members to receive "a gift or gratuity."

In addition, the fire chief said, he had discussed the proposal with City Attorney Lance Callis and had been told that the plan did not appear to be illegal.

After the letter was read, Mayor Paul Schuler asked Assistant Fire Chief George Smolich if he wished to comment on the suggestion.

Smolich, who was attending the council session for Parente, told the council:

"I'm sorry I didn't get here soon enough, as I wished to withdraw the letter. I talked with a deputy director of the Department of Registration and he frowned on the idea since it involves tax monies."

The letter was ignored and council members passed to the next order of business.

5 graduate at Eastern

A total of 1,362 spring semester graduates received degrees at Eastern Illinois University's commencement ceremonies during the weekend at Charleston. President Daniel E. Marvin Jr. conferred degrees and awarded diplomas.

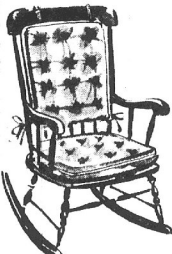

Receiving degrees were Emory R. Wilson, Madison, master of arts; Diane Marie Rottier and Michael E. Seibold, both of Granite City, bachelor of arts degrees; Delores J. Stalecker of Granite City, Board of Governors bachelor of arts; and Mark Thomas Lanahan of Granite City, bachelor of arts with secondary teaching certificate.

"Putting It All Together"

Post-high school training areas

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., May 18, 1978 Page 11

To broaden the knowledge of high school students regarding programs offered by technical schools and junior colleges, counselors at Granite City North and South high schools arranged "Future Education Day" last week.

Some students learn about technical and business schools and college programs from representatives visiting school guidance offices and, in some instances, from classroom presentations.

Expanding the information already made available was the primary objective of the special program.

The visiting representatives were readily accessible to students, located in a central area at both high schools.

Counselors provided guidelines for the students, suggesting a comparison be made between three or more schools which offer training in their chosen career field.

Each pupil was invited to complete accreditation, state licensing, courses available, tuition costs, placement assistance, facilities and equipment at the schools.

Beside performing traditional tasks, counseling staffs in both Granite City high schools are initiating vital new programs to meet the social and developmental needs of high school students about to enter a labor force which requires more and more skilled workers, it was explained.

Participating representatives and schools included:

Karen Blyski and Sherry Davison, Hickey's School of Business, St. Louis; Kiana Arriola, Barbizon School of Modeling, St. Louis; Sue Dolan, Rankin Technical Institute, St. Louis; Edward Affsprung, Parks College, Cahokia; Betty Spiller, St. Louis; Paul Chamberlain, Pharmacy; Paul Chamberlain, Bailey Technical School, St. Louis.

CONTINUING EDUCATION in the business world is discussed by Mrs. Sherry Davison of Hickey's School of Business, St. Louis, left, with high school students during Future Education Day. Practical ideas to help select a specific school to further their chosen careers were offered by trained consultants from junior colleges, business-technical schools and Armed Services personnel.

FUTURE EDUCATION DAY at Granite City North and South High Schools. Staff Sergeant Howard Montgomery, U.S. Army, back to camera, attracts a circle of interested students of both sexes as he explains the advantages of enlisting in the Army to further education and advance their career goals. Representatives from technical schools, colleges, business schools and the Armed Forces participated.

Mrs. and Mrs. Marvin France, Gradwohl School of Laboratory Technique, St. Louis; John Ryan, Belleville Area College; Rose Hall and Mariana Hanifan, Allied Health Programs, Belleville Area College; Don Chapman, Vocational Programs, Belleville Area College; Dennis Fischer, Quincy Technical School, Quincy, Ill.; David Saunders, School of Technical Careers, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

M. E. George, Sanford Brown College of Business, St. Ann, Mo.; Jane Mermis, Lewis and Clark Community College, Godfrey; Richard Kynion, Illinois State Employment Service, Granite City; U. S. Taylor, Gem City College, Quincy; Rod Aiken, Robert

Morris School, Arthage, Ill.; Raymond G. Elmg Jr., Illinois Business and Technical School, Granite City.

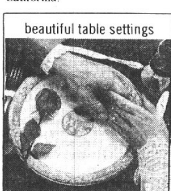

Tom Owens, Supplementary Instructional Program, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville; Gifford Roux, Vocational Rehabilitation counselor, Alton; Chief Petty Officer Johnson, U. S. Coast Guard, St. Louis; Major Recer, U.S. Air Force, Detachment 206, SIUE.

Sergeants Lawrence Baker and Howard Montgomery, U.S. Army Recruiting Office, Granite City; Staff Sergeant Jim Markham, U.S. Air Force Recruiter, Granite City; Staff Sergeant Streiff, U.S. Marine Recruiter, Granite City; and Petty Officer Carl Tice, U.S. Navy Recruiter, Granite City.

Testifies on federal 'power grab' at hearing on trend to regionalism

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

A Granite City man is becoming one of the most prominent figures in deliberations of a special Illinois Joint House-Senate Committee to Evaluate Regionalism.

The group is studying ways to avoid federal control by stressing state rights, according to Rep. Joe Lucco, a member of the committee.

Bruce Armstrong of Granite City, who describes himself as a former secret courier for the United States, testified this month in Springfield before the committee.

He contends that branches of the federal government are attempting to "stir up trouble" in Illinois and other states, so that Congress will then pass laws to settle the problems, thus further controlling the state and "taking another step toward socialism."

"We have not yet checked out much of what Mr. Armstrong has said, but it turns out to be accurate by his some mighty interesting information," Lucco said.

Armstrong is the only Springfield hearing witness that the committee plans to recall when the hearings resume in July, first in Chicago and Springfield and then in the southern portion of the state.

Rep. Lucco hopes to hold a hearing either in Granite City or at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"Watergate is just the tip of the iceberg. There is more going on than you can even believe—things which threaten free enterprise and our way of life," Armstrong told the Press-

Record.

He contends that the FBI, CIA, HUD, HSW, EPA, OSHA and other governmental agencies are attempting to show a need for increased federal control.

Federal laws controlling problem areas can then be passed and the U.S. government can increase its powers, at the expense of state and local control, as he sees the trend.

Asserting that he serves as a semisecret "clearing house" for information on such activities for a federal agency or authority that he cannot name, Armstrong says he has input from numerous sources which indicate the pattern of ever-expanding federal control.

One example he cites is a recent federal regulation to regulate nursing homes after a series of serious fires, including one in Chicago which killed numerous residents of one home.

Armstrong says he attended a meeting of federal agents and "a community group" while plans for fires at several nursing homes were discussed.

He alleges that some fires are intentionally started, with the guidance of federal officials, so that Congress will conclude there is a need for stronger federal nursing home standards.

"This type of thing goes on constantly, before our very eyes, and we cannot see it because we find it hard to believe that our government would do such things," he comments.

Armstrong says his testimony in the future will show that 17 U.S. cities have been marked for sweeping programs which could result in greater government control in many areas.

Numerous federal agencies, acting as "arms" of the government but not directly controlled by Congress, are acting without legislators' knowledge to create "incidents" in various fields of interest, in his opinion.

He says severe plant accidents have been used to show a need for greater control over industrial safety. These may have led to creation of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, which he considers too powerful, he adds.

"OSHA has such strict standards that no factory or business can possibly meet them, which gives the OSHA officials nearly unlimited power over any company they choose to use it on," Armstrong believes.

He says OSHA inspectors recently went to an area restaurant in blue jeans and working clothes and were told their dress was not suitable for lunch at that restaurant.

"I was told they immediately produced their badges and said they were going to conduct an inspection. It resulted in the restaurant owner paying several fines."

"To me, that is just a small example how the federal government is growing too powerful."

As a former secret courier, Armstrong says, he was forced to sign a United States secrecy oath.

In about 1970, he went to federal court to be relieved of the oath "and, in effect, win my rights back," he adds, asserting that he won the court battle.

Armstrong relates gathering a great deal of secret information during the Watergate investigation and says his tapes were used by H. R. Haldeman in the writing of Haldeman's book on Watergate. He says he did not play a role in bringing the scandal to light, but feels there is much more that will come out soon.

In addition to "tricks" calculated to increase government control over states and municipalities, Armstrong says, some governmental agencies have created other incidents intended to increase the confidence of Americans in their federal government.

Candy may have been drugged

An 8-year-old Granite City boy may have been given candy laced with LSD at a school playground about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Police are continuing to investigate a report made by the father of the youngster, who is a patient at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville.

The boy said he was playing on Webster School playground when some "big boys" gave him candy. Shortly after arriving home, the youngster started having some sort of "attack or fit," his father said.

The child was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital here for emergency treatment and then taken to the Belleville hospital on advice of the family doctor.

The physician said it appeared the boy may have ingested LSD, the father reported.

A LITTLE SUN is considered helpful when trying to read a sun dial, according to Ron Bruno, associate professor of physics at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He is shown silhouetted by a rare appearance of the sun as he assembled this sun dial on the campus mall. The display was one of the highlights of the Sun Day observance—emphasizing solar power at the university.

News notes

Governor James R. Thompson is backing legislation to provide Illinois residents with insurance protection from damage to their homes and property caused by the ground surface settling or sinking due to shifts in underground mines. He said insurance against mine subsidence damage is the one type of coverage still unavailable to threatened home and property owners.

Gov. Thompson said a dramatic rise in reported child abuse incidents has convinced him to add 30 to 40 more child abuse caseworkers to the 29 new ones already proposed in his fiscal 1978-79 state budget. "We must make certain," Thompson said, "that we have the people and the tools to detect child abuse and to stop it and prevent it wherever possible."

Illinois top child welfare official has cited a 58 percent increase in reports of suspected sexual abuse of children in an appeal for a comprehensive community approach to the problem. Department of Children and Family Services Director Margaret Kennedy last week told the Rape Study Committee of the Illinois House of Representatives that her department will have received about 1,000 reports of suspected sexual abuse of children by the end of June, compared to 632 the previous year.

Alaska Governor Jay S. Hammond is asking Illinoisans to skip Alaska in looking for summer construction jobs. "I am concerned that many people may use their savings to travel to Alaska seeking pipeline construction work, only to find there is no construction of a gas line under way."

A toll-free telephone number, 800-252-2933, has been established to help Illinois residents obtain information concerning dates, times and locations of free motorcycle safety training courses by the state Department of Transportation. The course consists of 11 hours of classroom instruction and at least 11 hours of on-bike training. All materials are furnished, including motorcycles which are supplied by local dealers. Courses are to be offered in about 100 Illinois communities.

Find burned car in St. Clair County

Larry Beyer, 3037 Buxton Ave., received a report from St. Clair County Sheriff's office at 12:30 a.m. Wednesday that his 1973 Buick Riviera had been found burned in St. Clair County. The vehicle was stolen after 2 p.m. Tuesday from Tony's Restaurant parking lot at 15th Street and Madison Avenue.

4 of this state's 11 health systems agencies approved

The first four of Illinois' 11 Health Systems Agencies (HSA's) to be recommended for full designation were cited this week by Roy W. Armstrong Jr., executive secretary of the Statewide Health Coordinating Council.

"Full designation," he explained Tuesday, "allows an HSA greater autonomy and clearer responsibility for the development of health care resources in its health service area."

The four agencies are: The Greater St. Louis HSA, St. Louis (HSA population 1,337,413), including Madison County; Comprehensive Health Planning of Northwest Illinois, Inc., Rockford (HSA population 372,400); Iowa HSA, Davenport, Iowa (HSA population 425,035); and the Health Systems Agency for Kane, Lake and McHenry Counties in Cary, Ill. (HSA population 787,900).

Armstrong said full designation is recommended only after review of the HSA's budget, plan and application by the Statewide Health Coordinating Council, and with concurrence from the Region V Office of the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The states of Missouri and Iowa have taken similar action regarding the St. Louis and Davenport based HSA's.

The budgets, plans and applications of the remaining seven Illinois HSA's are currently in the process of being reviewed by the Statewide Health Coordinating Council.

CORN CROP FEDERAL INSURANCE EXTENDED
Don Rathbun, district manager of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp., says planting period one for 1978 corn has been extended to May 25 for all counties in the district. After planting period dates remain as previously established.

Rathbun noted that, due to adverse weather, planting has been delayed considerably. The additional time has been granted to obtain maximum bushel coverage. Those who have questions are to call the district office in Brees, 526-4888.

Romans 8:28 "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose."

All things work together for good. Hard to believe, isn't it? Nevertheless, it is so. First, because ALL things are under the absolute control of our Heavenly Father. Second, because God desires only good things for us. Third, because even Satan himself cannot touch a hair of our heads without God's permission, and then only for our good.

Not all things are good in themselves, nor in their tendencies; but GOD MAKES ALL THINGS work for our good!

Is He working for you? Today?

Girl Scouts attend Lincoln Pilgrimage

Junior Girl Scout Troop 683, sponsored by Russell D. Johnson School, participated in the 33rd annual Lincoln Pilgrimage in Springfield, Ill., during the weekend event.

A memorial wreath was placed at the tomb by Honor Troop 14 at 9 a.m. and the 96th Air Force Band and the 144th Illinois National Guard Band gave a concert at 1:45 p.m.

Eagle Scout Ronald Burk of Troop 60, gave the invocation followed by the representative scouts presenting the colors. Ted Smith sang the Star Spangled Banner and Cub Scout David Vail of Pack 53 led the pledge of allegiance.

Greetings were given by Justice Richard Mills and the Lincoln Tribune was presented by Gov. James Thompson. Taps was by a member of the 144th Infantry.

Scouts attending the event spent the morning touring Springfield and visited Lincoln's Home, the railroad depot, law office, the old capitol building and the new capitol. The girls designed their own patch for touring Springfield. Those attending included Philip Fanning, Robin Fanning, Dawn Allen, Jannette Bowman, Maria Schradler, Debbie Kelley, Laura Rains, Christine Rodgers, Marie Martin, Mary Hierger, and guests Mrs. Joyce Schradler, Mr. and Mrs. Rains and family and Mrs. Janis Martin.

Youths plan camp out, float trip

Members of the Youth Fellowship at St. John United Church of Christ are busy making plans for a campout and float trip, scheduled June 16 to June 18.

The group will travel to Salem, Mo., staying at a church retreat. The float trip of the Current River is planned on Saturday, June 17.

Part of the expenses for the trip will be met by using proceeds from the Youth Fellowship's annual spaghetti supper, held recently at the church.

Chaperons for the weekend will be Pastor Jim Mory, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Supps, Miss Karen Schieb, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zeugin and Mr. and Mrs. Russ Chappell.

Commencement June 9; salute Solomon, others

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold commencement exercises June 9 at 7 p.m. at the Outdoor Performing Arts Facility, also known as the Mississippi River Festival site.

Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of the university, will deliver the commencement address and award the degrees. Names of students participating in the graduation ceremonies will be announced as they receive their diplomas.

Two internationally known men and two locally prominent businessmen who have made contributions toward improving the quality of life will be honored during commencement activities.

An honorary doctor of humane letters degree will be awarded to President Leopold Sedar Senghor of Senegal, and an honorary degree of doctor of economics and business management will be presented to Peter Ferdinand Drucker, an economist.

Distinguished service awards will go to Russell Solomon, vice-president for quality control at the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation, and to David Walter Shaw, executive director of the Madison County Mental Health Center, Inc.

President Senghor is being recognized for his personal contributions to world literature which are said to be having a profound impact on shaping the cultural, social and political future of the nations of Africa and human understanding.

Drucker is receiving recognition for his career as an educator, consultant and analyst in the area of economics and business management. His books on economics, management and industrial organization, and the impact of current practices and trends on the future are used in schools of business throughout the world.

Solomon will receive the distinguished service award for his aid to the university in general.

Motorcyclist, 17, faces six charges

A 17-year-old Granite City motorcyclist faces six traffic charges following a chase by police at 7:50 p.m. Tuesday through the Glenview — Community Heights area, east of Nantux Road.

Robert E. Fike Jr., 17, of 2019 Saratoga Ave., operator of a motorcycle, allegedly fled from police who tried to stop him on Faith Avenue, where he reportedly drove through a yard.

The youth then proceeded on Faith to Dogwood and Wilson avenues, where he drove into another yard, turned onto Leonard Avenue and continued east past Wayne and Warren to Buxton Avenue, according to police.

The machine jumped the curb on Buxton and the cyclist allegedly was driving on the sidewalk when cut off by another police officer before leaving the block.

Fike was charged with two counts of reckless driving, fleeing and attempting to elude police, stop sign violation and not having a motorcycle classification nor a valid registration.

Fighting charges filed against 2

A report of men fighting on Victory Drive, near Terminal Avenue and the drainage ditch, at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, brought police to the scene.

Officers observed two men get out of a vehicle on Terminal Avenue and begin to fight each other, with the auto leaving the scene.

Police broke up the altercation and arrested Raymond A. Schultz, 18, of 2709 Saratoga Ave., and Charles W. Hawk, 18, of 2728 Saratoga Ave., and charged them with fighting.

Man is charged

Barbara Panjov of St. Peter's Mo., said a man was sitting in her auto and refused to get out at 1:10 a.m. Wednesday in the 400 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

The woman called to some friends for help and they held the man inside the vehicle with a baseball bat until officers arrived.

Arrested and charged with disorderly conduct was Terry L. Champion, 30, of 2020 Troy Ave., Madison.

David Shaw is being recognized for his "efforts to improve the quality of life for the citizens of Madison County by delivering high quality services based on sound mental health concepts and modern treatment technology." His innovations in the field of mental health have provided planning models for other Illinois communities.

Other awards to be conferred during commencement activities include the SIUE Alumni Association's great teacher award and junior and senior teaching excellence awards.

A reception in honor of students participating in graduation ceremonies will be held at the site immediately following the program. Parents and friends of the students are welcome to attend.

In case of inclement weather, the starting time will be the same, but the commencement program activities will be decentralized, the reception will be held in Goshen Lounge of the University Center following the ceremonies.

Should a decision be made to hold the commencement indoors, the announcement will be made on area radio stations after 3 p.m. June 9. Information may also be obtained by telephoning 692-2000 or 692-2739.

Large trees keep home cool

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Area Horticulture Adviser
Large trees are especially useful for home temperature control when located on the southwest corner of the home. A large tree, or several trees, shade the home during hot summer afternoons, and reduce energy consumed for air conditioning. Even without air conditioning, trees in this location still make the home more comfortable. These statements are part of a summary by Prof. Ray Rothenberger, horticulturist at University of Missouri at Columbia, regarding the effects of landscaping to save energy. Prof. Rothenberger reports that a tree shading the sides or roof of the house will be seven times more effective in reducing heat in summer than pulling drapes over the windows while the sun is shining on them. As water evaporates from the leaves of the trees, a natural cooling effect occurs. Large trees, such as red oak, sugar maple, ash, hackberry, sweet gum, or river birch might be considered for this purpose. After the leaves fall, the sun's rays warm the walls during cold weather. +++ Crocuses, tulips, daffodils, and grape hyacinths will bloom year after year with a minimum of care. One of the important things to remember is that the leaves must remain on the plants until they turn yellow. While this yellowing foliage isn't especially attractive, it is a sign that the leaves have manufactured enough food to build a strong bulb for a good flower display next year. Crocuses, daffodils and grape hyacinths will gradually multiply if left in the ground. You can double-crop these bulb beds by inter-planting petunias, or some other annual, among the ripening foliage. When the leaves of the flower bulbs begin to turn gray, a gentle jerk will break off the foliage while the bulbs remain. Many varieties of tulips do not survive from year to year if left in the soil. To get your best return from tulips, plan on digging the bulbs every spring. As soon as the tulip leaves show traces of gray, dig the bulbs. Handle them gently in order to keep the bulbs attached to the leaves. Store the bulbs and leaves in a cool dry location, until fall. When you replant, sort the bulbs and replant by sizes. Thumb-nail sized daughter bulbs will not flower the first year.

Costlier college elections ahead

A report issued by the Illinois Community College Trustees Association indicates a dramatic rise in the costs of future community college elections as a result of a new law consolidating those elections with others in the state and nation.

According to the ICTTA, election costs for community colleges around the state for April 1977 were surveyed and compared to the costs of conducting the general election in November 1976. The general election most nearly approximates what is envisioned as the future election procedure for the colleges, the ICTTA said. Based on the assumption that school districts and other special districts will share a portion of the cost, the ICTTA estimates that community colleges will be liable for a cost of as much as 20 cents per district resident for election costs, compared to previous costs of four cents per resident in a two-year period when the colleges conducted their own elections. Judith Madonia, who chaired an elections committee for the ICTTA, commented this week, "This five-fold growth in the cost of conducting elections is troubling, and will call for increased funding from some source."

She said the study shows that Illinois community colleges may spend as much as $1,500,000 in biennial consolidated elections compared to a two-year expenditure of $340,000 under the old plan. She estimates that the statewide average for the 37 community college districts which have elected trustees will rise from an average two-year cost of $8,000 per district to an average two-year cost of $41,000 as a result of the election consolidation.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

GC may hire engineer to check treatment plant

Granite City may employ Sverdrup, Parcel & Associates, St. Louis engineering firm, to determine what repairs or adjustments must be made at the secondary sewage treatment plant to qualify it for approval and acceptance by the Environmental Protection Agency, it was disclosed at a meeting of the City Council Tuesday night.

The proposal to bring in an engineer other than the M. W. Architects & Engineers, original designers and engineers for the treatment plant, followed a special meeting of the council a week ago in which the aldermen were told there is a number of deficient or incomplete items that is holding up final acceptance of the $12 million facility.

Officials of the M. W. engineering firm who were questioned by council members during last week's session suggested that unsatisfactory elements at the plant were the responsibility of the contractor, G. L. Parlon Contracting Co. of St. Louis, and that part of $55,000 still owed by the city to the contractor firm could be withheld and used to make corrections.

Mayor Paul Schuler, noting that he believes something should be done "to pinpoint" what steps are necessary to qualify the plant for final inspection and acceptance, said he had asked Sverdrup, Parcel & Associates to give the city a proposal on the cost of an inspection by that engineering firm and a report on the steps that should be taken.

He said engineers had visited the plant and now are working on a proposal which should be available for the next council session on Tuesday, May 22.

"That is right along the lines I was thinking," Alderman Sam Whitmer commented. "I think that is a fine idea."

Alderman Gerald Farmler suggested the city "hold up the contractor's performance bond until we can get the facts. What we need to do is put the finger on what must be done and who is responsible for it not being done in the first place."

Schuler noted that it is essential the city take steps toward obtaining final EPA acceptance of the plant because a grant fund of about $30,000 is being held up by EPA until final approval of the facility.

Under investigation by the city and items to be pinpointed by the proposed engineering checkup are such items as malfunctioning electrical operations, pump facilities, peeling paint in settling tanks and mechanical problems.

Alderman Warren Decatur told the council that "I definitely think there is a breach of contract here, and the responsibility should be determined."

Disposal of part of Army Depot is reaching a decisive point; 3 cities and Tri-City Port interested in buying it

A decision of immense importance to the Quad-Cities is expected to be made soon — the disposition of the southern third of the former Granite City Army Depot, now the headquarters for Defense Department housing and support services in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Due to the intricate regulations affecting disposal of surplus federal facilities, a time-consuming process is necessary, with various governmental agencies having priority over private interests in a precisely designated order.

The procedure has arrived at the point where a May 22 deadline has been set. By that time, local-level governmental bodies must file official notices of interest if they wish to be considered for purchase of a 321-acre area declared surplus by the Army.

There had been a general assumption that the Tri-City Regional Port District would become the entity through which land and buildings could be acquired for development of an industrial park and commercial center that could expand local job opportunities. The Port is interested, and Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk on Tuesday night discussed plans for a purchase proposal on behalf of the municipalities of Granite City, Venice and Madison.

Information about the availability of the tract also is being sent to the Illinois governor, the Madison County Board, state administrators and the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

Principal potential buyers would appear to be either the Tri-City Port or the local cities.

Each city names one of the seven port commissioners and the other four are appointed by the governor. There has been considerable turnover in the board's membership, but at present there is a highly-experienced board. While present port-related employment is not gigantic, there has been steady growth and a solid contribution to local and regional shipping and economic activity.

After a conference between municipal and port officials, it has been decided that notices of interest will be filed separately by the cities and the Port, preserving their respective interests until a "common understanding can be reached."

While this may reflect some difference of opinion, all indicate that they will avoid any steps that would prevent "the cooperation of the cities and the Port in acquiring the property for the Tri-City area."

Once a busy center of government activity employing more than 4,000 persons, the Depot no longer has such a comprehensive mission and can function well without the southern area that is to be sold.

The site to be transferred can play a big and constructive role in the future of this community.

All residents are hopeful that sound planning and action can be carried out by local officials in the coming weeks. A crucial "fork in the road" has been reached, and one of the other route must be chosen.

Area wishes 7-Up well in newest phase of its history

Seven-Up President William E. Winter, a former Granite City, and his associates are predicting innovative, aggressive marketing activities by the company following its acquisition by Philip Morris. Agreement was reached Monday evening in New York for the tobacco firm to acquire the 49-year-old St. Louis-based international soft drink firm. As part of its diversification efforts, Philip Morris bought Miller Brewing in 1969 and has brought it from seventh to second in beer sales, topped only by Anheuser-Busch of St. Louis.

Because of its unique taste and ingredients, Seven-Up seems likely to be able to expand its operations substantially. It currently ranks behind only Coca-Cola and Pepsi-Cola in worldwide sales volume.

This community has been closely linked with the company and there once were two seasonal headquarters in Madison. Quad-Cities with the firm well in the newest chapter of its extremely successful history.

Ill. compensation law second to none —reflects compassion for the injured

To the Editor:

The May 11 editorial page of the Press-Record reads: "Concern that workman's compensation may be reducing incentive to work and driving Illinois jobs to other states..."

A 78-page report, released May 8, was prepared for the Foundation for the Advancement of the Public Trust by John B. Parrish, professor of economics, University of Illinois. The report was based in part on a confidential survey made in cooperation with the Illinois Manufacturers' Association.

The association survey reflects an increase in the cost of workman's compensation. However, to say that "the future growth of jobs in Illinois is extremely threatened by the soaring costs" is very misleading for the public.

Rather than studying and speaking about reducing netted benefits, the manufacturers should examine what the cause, or problem, is that creates the workman's compensation claim.

The problem of on-the-job safety and health has not been solved.

Continued existence of unsafe conditions on the job is the basic cause and reason for industrial accidents, and subsequent claims.

By reducing industrial accidents, costs may be kept competitive and future growth maintained.

Why has the Illinois Manufacturers' Association not argued the elimination of the cause of workman's compensation?

Does anyone really believe that reducing benefits paid an employee due to a crippling industrial accident will help eliminate industrial accidents tomorrow?

According to Dr. Parrish (in remarks elsewhere), "The incentive to work has been drastically reduced, thus destroying the original theory of workman's compensation developed around 1910. Further, the present levels encourage faking of injuries. It pays better to fake an injury."

The logic of this totally escapes me. I would submit three questions for consideration to the professor.

First, how would reducing benefit levels protect the workers crippled daily in industry in the state of Illinois? Second, how many named and hospitalized workers has Dr. Parrish seen in a hospital, or in a home, or in a nursing home, or interviewed? And third, how do you take a missing finger, arm or foot?

I recently visited a friend and fellow worker at St. Elizabeth Hospital who is recovering from a crushed leg injury incurred in an industrial accident at Granite City Steel over three months ago. No one knows if he will be able to return to his regular job. No one knows if he and his family will be able to emotionally adjust if he is permanently impaired, or unable to work again.

No one knows if he will be able to return to his regular job. No one knows if he and his family will be able to emotionally adjust if he is permanently impaired, or unable to work again.

I am assured, knowing that this injury is compensable under Illinois state workman's compensation law, that he will not suffer unnecessary financial burdens in addition to his physical torment.

The working human resources in this state must not be exploited. Workers should not be subjected to unsafe working conditions, and upon injury, be left without adequate care and income.

There are those who would encourage returning to the turn-of-the-century and disregard all human compassion for the working force in the name of profit.

We, the citizens of Illinois, cannot allow this to happen. We must continue to encourage our legislators to maintain our workman's compensation law and fight off any efforts to attach crippling amendments.

Another point expressed by Dr. Parrish was that the cost of workman's compensation is making Illinois firms uncompetitive, and even encourages relocation.

I agree that our industries must remain competitive. The answer to the cost-price-competitive problem is not to reduce, or eliminate, benefits.

We need to stand by our compensation law and reach out to our neighboring states, encouraging them to follow suit in bringing their workman's compensation laws up to an adequate standard.

We need also to encourage our nation's leaders to fight for federal workman's compensation law to ensure all workers adequate protection, make all states equal, and at the same time eliminate state by state competitiveness at the expense of human suffering.

Safe cities urged at '78 Elks dinner

It is unacceptable that it is unsafe to walk about at night in many cities, the guest speaker stressed to 300 persons the eighth annual Elks Lodge 1063 law and order dinner Monday evening at Charlie's Restaurant.

Silver Suarez, former Springfield police chief and now executive director of the Illinois Law Enforcement Officers Training Board, urged increased concern for crime victims and greater court concentration on basic facts rather than peripheral factors at suspects' trials.

All Illinois law enforcement staffs are being urged to obtain full training and accreditation for their departments, Suarez noted in discussing the work of his agency.

He rejected the idea that police can prevent crime, likening it to firemen being held responsible to prevent fires. But he called for emphasis by all branches of government on policies that might make crime less tempting and punishment more certain.

Elks Exalted Ruler Harold Rush led the pledge of allegiance and welcomed the gathering, and Irvin Slate Jr. served as toastmaster. The Rev. William Chrystal, pastor of St. Peter United Church of Christ, offered prayers.

Americanism Chairman Earl Buenger presented awards to the Granite City, Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach police departments and the Madison County sheriff's office. Those recognized were:

Federal grand jury meeting

A federal grand jury was meeting today in Springfield, sources verified this morning. There have been indications some indictments may be issued today or tomorrow, but officials will not disclose what cases are under consideration. There has been considerable speculation that the grand jury is considering allegations against some Madison County residents and may be studying such allegations today.

Reports indicate several FBI investigators have been active in the Quad-City area in recent weeks.

North jumps on South for extra-inning victory

By DOUG IRVIN
For the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Who ever said that lightning never strikes twice in the same place? Well, it did! Extra-innings was the lightning in this case as it brought ill fate to the South Warriors Monday as the North Stealers were victorious, 7-4. Two weeks ago North and South paired off and because of extra innings and lack of light, the battle ended in a 1-1 tie.

Both Granite teams rescheduled previous rained out games and played them last Tuesday. South hosted Roxana and lost 5-2 in nine innings and North traveled to Wood River. Before the game, seven varsity players were suspended due to a disciplinary problem, four were starters. At Wood River, North lost 5-1.

NORTH 7, SOUTH 4
"Tommy Malt was only going to pitch three," stated South coach Conrad "Babe" Champion and "We wanted to bring Doug Rains in the fifth inning," said North mentor Bob Stegmeyer. Both coaches were talking about their stars. They were brought in to be warmed up for the Regional.

NORTH started senior Terry Page on the mound against the Warriors. Page pitched the first four innings — during the 12 outs, he allowed two hits and no runs, struck out five, and walked two. Rains then took over whereas he hurled two and two-thirds innings — he allowed four hits, three runs, walked two, and struck out the entire sixth inning. Steve Doty replaced Rains and finished the seventh frame. After Doty's second batter, Kevin Tegan saw some light and allowed one run on one hit.

South's star tosser, Malt, threw three innings. During these three, he slipped on the field twice, walked two, allowed three runs on two hits. Al Yount relieved Malt in the fourth where Yount lasted six outs. No hits nor runs, and one double play-Yount to Bob Stegmeyer to Jim Thurman — came off of Yount's glove. In the sixth, Jeff Tretter came in and threw to nine batters obtaining only four outs. Three runs scored while Tretter was on the mound. The other run scored when Mark Lindhart finished the inning.

North batted and scored first — in the first. They also scored in the third and the eighth. South scored in the seventh and the eighth.

BRUCE WRIGHT walked to lead off the game for the Stealers. Rusty Gregory reached when Malt slipped as did Rains, bases loaded. Tom Greco sacrificed to center to bring in Wright, 1-0. Wright walked again, this time in the third. Gregory singled to put two on base and Rains doubled to score both, 3-0.

After three scoreless innings, in the bottom of the seventh, South found themselves down by three runs, and with only three outs to make up for them, Stegmeyer led off for the Warriors with a base hit to right followed by a triple and a RBI by Jeff Parker. Another RBI came off the bat of Blake "Hondu" Ambeuhl as he hit to left. Tom Hennrich sacrificed to center to drive in Ambeuhl, 3-3, extra-innings.

North batted nine batters and scored four. Rains singled, Greco hit, Mike Robertson walked to load the bases, and the first run scored when Page walked. Jeff Stamper walked in another run and Bob Batay hit a RBI single to center field, 7-3.

FOR SOUTH, Thurman walked and Stegmeyer singled. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch. On a sacrifice by Parker, Thurman scored. But, South saw no more runs in North beat South for the second time out of seven classics, this one 7-4 in eight innings.

ROXANA'S SOUTH 2
Extra innings again played an important role for South, again ending in ill fate. Roxana scored in the fourth and sixth and ninth whereas South tallied only in the second and the sixth.

Thurman, in the second for South, walked and eventually scored when Stegmeyer base hit, 1-0. Roxana tied the score in the fourth. Mike Yorhees doubled in Glen Exton, who got on by a walk, 1-1.

Roxana scored again as did South, in the sixth. Jeff Frieled tripled and scored when Jerry Allen hit a RBI triple. South tied it up at 2 all as Hennrich walked then scored when Tretter sacrificed to center, extra-innings.

The shells rallied in the ninth to end the hopes of the Warriors as Roxana won 5-2. South finishes the regular season with a win-loss record of 12-12-1.

WOOD RIVER'S NORTH 1
Playing with a handicapped team, due to a disciplinary problem, on which coach Stegmeyer has "no comment," North lost to the Oilers, 5-1.

Rusty Chappell started for the first time this year on the mound and lasted three innings. Greg Leuhman then replaced Chappell in the fourth and Leuhman was replaced by Doty in the sixth.

Wood River had nine hits in the five of North. They also scored first, in the fourth and fifth and North scored in the sixth, but ..

LEADING OFF the fourth inning for the Oilers was Jerry McLain. McLain and Joe Sikwood both singled. Gary McLain walked to load the bases and Tim Haug walked in a run. Jim Logan — the DH — hit a two-run single, 3-0. In the fifth, the Oilers again singled as did McLain. Haug tripled to score both, 5-0.

North's only run came in the top of the sixth. Batay led off with a walk. Greco singled and Batay scored on a base hit by Robertson, 5-1 game. With that loss the Stealer win-loss record fell to 12-6-1.

Tonight's both Granite Teams play their third round Regional game, both will be at 4 p.m. North will host Roxana, to whom North has lost to once, this year, 1-0. South will travel to Alton to square off with the Red Birds, a team that beat South this year, 7-3.

OOPS! Granite City South third baseman Jeff Parker couldn't quite find the handle on a routine pop fly on the infield against North Monday, and it dropped ..

much to South's dismay. The Warriors also dropped the game, 7-4 in nine innings to the Stealers.

St. Henry shocks Trojans, 6-5

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor

MADISON — I just didn't think they'd be able to hold onto the lead, but they did. They sure did.

Madison baseball coach Bill Campbell thus tried to explain his team's 6-5 loss at the hands of Belleville St. Henry Tuesday in the opening round of the Freeburg Class A Regional.

GOING INTO the game, St. Henry had won only one game (a 9-9 verdict over Assumption) and the Trojans were expected to breeze through them with ease. But St. Henry had other ideas.

Taking advantage of key hitting, the Eagles scored three runs in both the fourth and sixth innings to take the victory and end Madison's season abruptly. Despite being out-hit by Madison 10-5, the Eagles were able to come up with hits at the points when they were most needed. Like in the fourth inning.

Catcher Todd Graff led off with a walk, and then stole second base. John Casey walked as did third baseman Jude Richards, leading the bases. Then came the key hit. First baseman Art Pingleton doubled, scoring Graff and Casey.

On the sixth inning, Casey led off with a walk, Richards reached base on a walk and Pingleton reached base on an error by Madison first baseman Juan Gardner, once again leading the bases. Then came two key hits.

Kevin Marquart bunted into a perfectly-executed squeeze play, scoring Casey and second baseman Lou Sutton tripled to deep right field, scoring Richards and Pingleton.

MADISON made a game of it in the sixth and seventh innings. In the sixth, Mack Watt reached base on an error by the shortstop, stole second and scored on a single by Robert Niehaus.

In the seventh, Madison pitcher Clinton Sensibaugh singled, Prince Gyles doubled, scoring Sensibaugh. Then McDonald popped up to the second baseman, who threw wildly to home, allowing Gyles to score. Then Watt reached base on another error by the St. Henry shortstop and again stole home and was himself driven in when Niehaus singled to right field.

BUT that was all Madison could muster and the season ended a little sooner than Campbell had expected.

"We made a run at them," said Campbell. "I'm proud of the way we came back."

"I'm glad I stuck to my guns. We had a little disciplinary problem this week, so several freshmen and sophomores were in our lineup today. They hung in there pretty well."

St. Henry will face Freeburg today at 4 p.m. in the quarterfinals of the regional tournament.

Girl's two-class state track meet Saturday

BLOOMINGTON — A total of 1,211 competitors from 372 schools will converge on O'Brien Stadium on the campus of Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, this weekend as the Illinois High School Association (IHSAA) stages its first-ever two-class Girls' State Final Track Meet.

In the Class A competition, there will be 988 competitors from 194 schools. In Class AA, there will be 622 competitors from 178 schools.

Locally, Madison qualified three individuals and two relay teams for the state meet. Linda Campbell will run the 100-yard dash, Terri Smith will be in the 220-yard dash and Darlene Reed will be in the shot put.

The squad of Campbell, Smith, Alecia Jones and Annette Walker will be in both the 44-yard relay and the 880-yard medley relay.

In the Class AA competition, there will be 988 competitors from 194 schools. In Class AA, there will be 622 competitors from 178 schools.

Locally, Madison qualified three individuals and two relay teams for the state meet. Linda Campbell will run the 100-yard dash, Terri Smith will be in the 220-yard dash and Darlene Reed will be in the shot put.

Preliminaries in the field events and running events will get under way Friday at 9 a.m. The finals are scheduled for Saturday, beginning at 11 a.m. with some of the field events and the first running event. The Class A race in each running event will precede the Class AA final. Opening ceremonies will start at 10:30 a.m., and will include the annual color-filled parade of competitors and a special tribute to the late Helen Riley, manager of the state final meet for the first five years of its existence, who died last winter. Miss Riley has been named the first Honorary Referee of the Girls' State Final Meet.

Champions of last spring's single-class State Final Meet returning are Watska's Patty Carrell in the Class A two-mile (where she posted the second-best district time of 11:49.10), Patricia Johnson of Chicago (DuSable) in the Class AA long jump (where her district mark of 17-4½ was the ninth-best), Desiree Pritchett of Chicago (Dunbar) in the Class AA 100-yard dash (where her 10.8 was the leading mark from the districts) and Tami Essington of Washington in the Class AA 880-yard run (where her district mark of 2:16.85 leads the way). Overle, who won the mile crown in 1975 and 1976, posted a 5:39.70 in the district for the sixth-best mark.

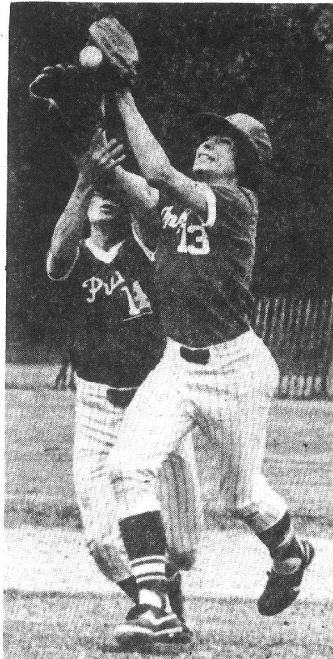

Of the total of 31 district meets scheduled last weekend, 17 were not completed until Monday because of poor weather conditions throughout the state last weekend.

Madison's meet at Red Bud was one of these.

In addition to the defending champions, one of the outstanding performers to watch is Lisa Plummer of Normal (Univ.) in the Class A high jump (where she posted the best district mark of 5-4½), long jump (where her 17-4½ was fourth-best), 220-yard low hurdles (where her 31.4 was ranked No. 6) and the 110-yard low hurdles (where her 14.8 was the district leader).

The Dickerson sisters of St. Joseph-Ogden should also provide Class A fans with a bit of distance brilliance. Stephanie Marla posted the top 880-yard run time in the districts at 2:26.2 and senior Marianne ranks No. 1 in the mile at 5:23.50. Teammate Pat Plymire posted the No. 9 time in the mile and No. 3 time in the two-mile. Watska's sophomore Carrell posted the second-best time of 11:49.1 behind the 11:30.3 of Shabbona's Nancy Purdy.

REINHARDT—Realtor
Sells—BETTER LIVING!

TWO GLOVES ARE BETTER THAN ONE — Make that THREE gloves. These St. Henry infielders had a hard time calling off each other on a pop fly Tuesday afternoon against Madison in the opening round of the Freeburg Class A Regional. The ball dropped, but right into the glove of yet another St. Henry player, standing out of this picture. When it rains, it pours.

Rusick is still alive, however, in doubles competition. He and teammate Kent Smith downed the duo of Ed Vance and Joe Levine from Bloomsburg State of Pennsylvania, 6-1, 5-7, 6-2. Play continues through the weekend in the tournament.

Stover is handball champ

Chaplain (Colonel) Earl F. Stover, son of Mrs. Thelma V. Stover of 3016 Ramona Drive, Granite City, captured two senior championship trophies for the Darmstadt team in the annual V Corps (Army) handball tournament held in Wiesbaden, Germany, during April 22-23.

In the double elimination senior singles tournament, Stover came out of the loser's bracket to defeat James Arnold of the Baumholder team, 15-7 and 15-1, and then 15-9 and 15-7 in the final. Arnold defeated Stover earlier in the tournament, 3-15, 15-8 and 15-11.

Stover is handball champ

Chaplain (Colonel) Earl F. Stover, son of Mrs. Thelma V. Stover of 3016 Ramona Drive, Granite City, captured two senior championship trophies for the Darmstadt team in the annual V Corps (Army) handball tournament held in Wiesbaden, Germany, during April 22-23.

In the double elimination senior singles tournament, Stover came out of the loser's bracket to defeat James Arnold of the Baumholder team, 15-7 and 15-1, and then 15-9 and 15-7 in the final. Arnold defeated Stover earlier in the tournament, 3-15, 15-8 and 15-11.

Stover then teamed with George Perez in the senior doubles final to defeat the Frankfurt team, 21-9 and 21-18. Stover has played handball for about 13 years and has written instructional material for Handball Magazine.

DONNIE CATHY OF LAKE SCHOOL BEARS DOWN IN THE 50-YARD DASH

MICHELLE LOFTUS OF FROHARDT DROPS THE ERASER IN THE BOX IN THE SHUTTLE

Fun!

GRANITE CITY — The good kids. That's what many people were saying here yesterday and Tuesday afternoon at Maryville School. The good kids. That's what these are.

What they were talking about was the annual all-sports jamboree held at Maryville School for every grade school in the area.

This year, the boys and girls were split up for the first time. The girls ran in their events on Tuesday and the boys yesterday.

The day started out with the relay races. A sight to behold. Imagine. Millions of little, screaming kids running back and forth on a 50-yard stretch of land handing a baton to members of their teams.

Then came the various other events. The softball throw. The standing broad jump. The high jump. And the shuttle.

The shuttle was something probably unique to this particular event. Two chalkboard erasers were placed at a spot about 25 feet from the starting point. The contestants ran down, picked up one eraser, ran back and put it in a box at the starting point. Then they ran back, picked up the other eraser and dashed for the finish line.

Sound fun? It was.

In fact, the entire day was fun ... for everybody.

Family Day is proposed

The establishment of a Family Day — "to emphasize the value we give to this crucial institution" — has been proposed by Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw.

President of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, he said in a Mother's Day sermon at the First Unitarian Church of Alton this week that "powerful forces are loose in the land, directly attacking the stability of family life."

"How we harness these forces — which are far from necessarily evil — into ways to make families relationships more honest and humane will shape the future in terms of fundamental social values for many generations to come."

While emphasizing the importance of motherhood, Dr. Shaw said forces of change indicate "we would do well to allow for greater flexibility in the roles parents play in the family."

"Mothers need more than new washers, just as fathers should not be bound to their briefcases or lunch boxes."

"The fact is, that if both parents are working, it will be necessary for recent sharing of basic household duties."

Quoting qualities which Jane Howard has defined as characteristic of all good families, the SIUE president said:

"Good families have a 'founder' — a great person, mother or father, hero or heroine — who represents values that hold the group together."

"Good families have a 'switchboard operator' — who keeps up with what everyone is doing so lines of care and communication are kept in good order."

"Good families have strong homes, with many 'doors and windows' to the outer world; these doors are open to friends and strangers because good families are hospitable."

"Good families face their troubles together."

"Good families prize their rituals, whether it be common church attendance, dinner on Mother's Day, or 'those great moments of life and death in our lives — birth, marriage, graduation, or any occasion on which the clan regularly gathers.'"

"Good families are affectionate, and the full burden for insuring that this is so should not fall exclusively on the mother."

"Good families have a 'sense of place' they know where they are going because they have some kind of common home to look to."

"Good families honor their elders — 'in essence, they pay tribute to parenthood and especially to those who conferred upon them the gift of life.'"

Titling his address, "Living the Good Life," Dr. Shaw concluded, "By committing ourselves to an acceptance and a sharing of the fundamental responsibilities of family life, we will be making life better, richer and happier for everyone."

Venice Retired Persons mark "Older Americans Month"

The Venice Chapter 2865 of the American Association of Retired Persons, celebrated "Older Americans Month" with a variety program at the Venice Recreation Center, last week. A group of AARP members, community citizens and out of town visitors joined the event.

President Mrs. Jane Martin opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag. Guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Jessie May Finley of Springfield, Ill., a state committee representative for AARP, assigned to the governor's senior citizen hit line.

She opened her talk with a song entitled, "Touch Somebody's Life," followed by a discussion on the various types of opportunities available to older Americans and how they can receive and apply for the benefits.

A noon sack lunch was held with tea, coffee, cookies, candy and peanuts, served by the chapter.

Entertainment for the afternoon was presented by the East St. Louis Cultural Arts group, under the direction of Ruth Ann Taylor. They demonstrated exercises which older persons could perform followed by a "welcome dance."

The AARP Rhythm Band of Granite City, also entertained with songs and various musical selections.

A craft display was exhibited with items offered for sale, and 14 prizes were awarded during the affair.

STATE FARM Insurance Companies.

Realtors doubt that foreigners are driving up farmland prices

Although there is growing apprehension among some farm groups and state legislators that foreign investors are gobbling up prime farmland and driving up land prices, that fear may be unwarranted. That is the consensus of a telephone survey conducted by the National Association of Realtors among foreign and domestic investment counselors.

The Missouri legislature, acting in response to pressure from farm groups, has just passed legislation designed to prohibit all further foreign investment in farmland to be used for agricultural purposes. However, the legislation signed into law April 28 by Gov. Joseph T. Mooney — will not prohibit purchases of farmland to be used for other purposes.

Across the border in Iowa, state legislators are considering several amendments to the state's corporate farming law enacted three years ago and amended for the first time last year.

As a result of the law, Iowa is the only state that requires foreign landholders to register by nationality. The 1977 amendment restricted holdings by foreign corporations to 640 acres.

Amendments under consideration now would prohibit all further foreign purchases of farmland in that state. In addition, it would limit leases of farmland to five years.

Illinois farmers also are worried. Representatives from various farm groups have met in Springfield with state officials and authorities from the federal government's General Accounting Office (GAO) to discuss the situation.

In addition, the Illinois House Agriculture Committee has sent the full House a bill that would severely restrict foreign investment.

Concern is not restricted to these three states or the state alone. In fact, the GAO currently is conducting a national investigation into the extent and location of foreign investments in agricultural land.

In addition, an Agriculture Department study of the feasibility of monitoring all foreign investments in domestic farmland merely awaits funding.

Just how extensive are foreign investments in U.S.

farmland? The answer is elusive.

Milton Berger, director of the Commerce Department's Office of Foreign Investment in the U.S., says, "We really don't know. What we are seeing may only be the tip of the iceberg."

"You can't hide the purchase of a factory, but little is known about sales of farmland."

He explained that the actual owners of property are often difficult to discern. With the exception of Iowa, he continued, state land recordation laws do not require foreign buyers to reveal their identities.

The most comprehensive data on foreign investments now is almost four years old. The Foreign Investment Study Act of 1974 required the Commerce and Treasury departments to conduct a thorough survey of foreign investments in the United States. The results were reported to Congress last summer.

As of the end of 1974, according to the survey, foreign interests owned just over one million acres of agricultural land in the U.S.

Berger explained that foreign holdings comprised only 0.1 percent of the 1.1 billion acres utilized for agricultural purposes in the nation.

Are farmers' fears justified? Investment counselors in the field tend to feel the situation has been overplayed.

M. Thomas Lardner, Chicago-based executive vice president and general manager of U.S. operations for Lehndorff Management, Hamburg, West Germany, agrees with them.

Lehndorff generally is acknowledged to be the largest manager of European investment in North American properties.

Lardner related that Lehndorff controls 300 properties with an asset value of $1 billion in the U.S. and Canada. Less than one percent of the asset value is in farmland, he said.

The firm manages 16,000 acres in farmland, the bulk of this located in the South. Northern farmland is considered overpriced, he asserted.

Lardner anticipates no increase in foreign farmland investments in the foreseeable future because "no one is convinced they will make much profit."

"The biggest problem now," according to Ken Shulman, a Dallas realtor, "is do you sell something whose price currently has surpassed its economic value?"

Duane Sandage, an Ames, Iowa, realtor, explained that most foreign investors interested in farmland want an investment that will at least break even. Low commodity prices in recent months have had a depressing effect on yields.

Shulman is senior vice president of the Investment Marketing Division of Henry S. Miller Co., realtors. Sandage is principal in the firm Duane Sandage Real Estate and Farm Management.

Both agreed that — their respective areas — both overall acreage and dollar value of agricultural land in foreign lands is low. Sandage estimated that less than 0.1 percent of all farmland in Iowa is owned by foreign investors.

Do foreign investors drive up land prices?

George A. Simon, principal in George A. Simon realtors, Miami, put it this way: "A foreign investor is as sure as an American investor. In order to have money to invest here, he had to be smart enough to make it. Foreign investors don't pay any more. Why would they?"

Bake Young, principal in Bake Young Realty, Nampa, Idaho, and 1978 president of the Farm and Land Institute, an affiliate of the National Association of Realtors, concluded, "The same people who complain about outside buyers are the first to beat a path to your door when they want to sell their property. They think you can get top dollar for it."

Files $65,000 suit in tugboat mishap

Thomas Mauling has filed a two-count lawsuit in Madison County Circuit Court seeking a total of $65,000 from Fruin Colon-Granite Construction Co., a joint venture which was operating the Charlie B tugboat Feb. 9, 1978, while Mauling was employed as a crew member.

Mauling alleges he was ascending from a low barge to a higher barge when he slipped and fell on ice and snow and injured an arm and a wrist.

In the first count, he seeks $50,000 for the accident and his injuries.

The second count charges the company failed to pay for his medical care and maintenance and seeks an additional $15,000.

New award for VA employees

Veterans Administration employees from Illinois' 16 facilities are eligible for a newly-created award from the Air Force Association.

Over 10,000 persons are employed in the VA stations in Illinois. Each is eligible for the award established to recognize significant employee contributions to the mission of the VA.

The Air Force Association is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization based in Washington. Its 155,000 members include veterans, the armed forces and active duty military members. Gerald V. Haster, president of the association, said the award is intended to focus public attention on the achievements of VA employees in serving America's 30 million veterans.

Employees who receive VA's Exceptional Service Award, Meritorious Service Award, Executive Leadership Award, Administrator's Commendation, or a department award of honor for excellence in improving communications and service to the public will be nominated automatically.

The award, in the form of a plaque, will be presented at the annual convention of the Air Force Association in Washington each September.

VA facilities in Illinois are hospitals at Danville, Chicago Lakeside, Chicago West Side, Hines, North Chicago and Marion; Regional Office in Chicago; Data Processing Center, Office of the Central Audit, Marketing center and Supply Depot at Hines, and National Cemetery at Camp Butler (Springfield), Danville, Mount City, Quincy and Rock Island.

PRE-SCHOOL AND DAY CARE

Urge more funding for kidney patients

Nearly 450 kidney dialysis patients in Illinois could face financial bankruptcy and be forced onto welfare if the proposed budget of the Illinois Department of Public Health is passed by the Illinois legislature, the Kidney Foundation of Illinois said in a statement presented to members of the Illinois House Appropriations Committee.

The statement said the proposed budget of $63,000 for the Chronic Renal Disease Program is less than half the amount required to administer the program adequately in fiscal 1979.

According to the Kidney Foundation, $1.35 million is required to meet the needs of the 450 patients expected to qualify for the Chronic Renal Program. A budget of $63,000 was set for the current fiscal year, but actual expenditures will exceed $1 million by June 30.

"The patients who receive benefits from Public Health are not on welfare," explained Harold Schwartz, chairman of the National Kidney Foundation and a member of the renal disease advisory committee of the Illinois Department of Public Health.

"The patients pay 12 1/2 percent of their adjusted gross income toward their medical bills. In addition, they pay for all their medications and transportation to dialysis, which can run up to 300 miles a week. Additional medical bills resulting from a cut back in public health benefits would force many of these people into bankruptcy."

"Entire families would be forced onto the welfare roles, costing Illinois taxpayers up to $4 million in an attempt to save $715,000."

Schwartz said many patients have told the Kidney Foundation they would choose to discontinue dialysis and face imminent death rather than plunge their families further into debt or face the humiliation of welfare. Many of these patients work and pay taxes, while others who are medically unable to work receive modest disability benefits.

"They simply cannot afford additional medical bills," Schwartz explained. "Particularly hard hit would be families in the $5,000 annual income range. If there were no Public Health program, these families would be left with nothing to live on after paying approximately $5,000 in treatment costs not covered by Medicare."

Since mid 1973, Medicare has paid 80 percent of dialysis treatment costs for most Americans afflicted with kidney failure. Private insurance may be insufficient or unobtainable to pay for the remaining 20 percent not covered by Medicare.

Dialysis averages $25,000 a year for the 38,000 Americans (2,700 in Illinois) whose lives are dependent on artificial kidney treatments 12-18 hours a week.

More than 4,000 patients have benefited from the Illinois Chronic Renal Disease Program since it began operating in March 1966. The program is designed to pay the balance of dialysis and transplant costs not covered by Medicare, private insurance or the patient's 12 1/2 percent income contribution. Last year 356 Illinois dialysis patients received an average of $2,734 from Public Health. Due to a growing patient population and inflation, it is projected that 450 patients will qualify for the program in 1979 at an average per patient cost of $3,000.

"A $1.35 million budget will enable the Public Health Department to honor its commitment to Illinois kidney patients and maintain its quality reputation as the nation's pioneer in state supported chronic kidney programs," concluded Schwartz.

The Kidney Foundation urged concerned citizens to write their state representatives and senators to request their support in increasing the appropriation for the Illinois Department of Public Health Chronic Renal Disease Program to $1.35 million in fiscal 1979.

Three Madison students scholarship winners at Assumption High School

Four Madison students of Assumption High School at East St. Louis are among honor graduates and three of them have been awarded scholarships. It was announced Wednesday evening at the annual graduation banquet at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville.

The honors were announced by Sister Jane Hendricks, ASC, senior divisional coordinator, during the banquet session which followed a Mass of Thanksgiving held at 10 a.m. Wednesday to commemorate the 25th building anniversary of Assumption High School. The mass was offered for the faculty, students and parents.

Since it was the last day for the seniors, prayers were included for their welfare. The juniors, who traditionally plan the graduation liturgy, presented the jubilee class with silver ribbons to be worn at the graduation ceremony Sunday afternoon.

Of the 14 honor graduates, four from Madison are Mary Gnojewski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gnojewski; Joe Hlava, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hlava; Karen Mooshegan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Mooshegan; and Sue Ruesing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Ruesing.

The honor graduates and recipients of scholarships will be distinguished by gold cords worn at the graduation ceremony.

Of the seven students who have college scholarships to date, three from Madison are: Mary Gnojewski, an Academic Scholarship to St. Louis University in St. Louis; Joe Hlava, an Academic Scholarship to Washington University in St. Louis; and Karen Mooshegan, an Illinois General Assembly Scholarship which she will apply at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Students in the Class of '78 from the Quad-City area are Christy Barbart, Mark Bruncic, Mary Gnojewski, Joe Hlava, Dan Kosticki, Karen Mooshegan, Susan Ruesing, John Selmer and Ginnie Sullivan.

This year's commencement exercise will be held at St. Peter's Cathedral, Belleville, on Sunday, May 21, at 2:30 p.m.

As customary for the last few years, two honor graduates will be the speakers for the ceremony.

Mary Gnojewski will deliver the "Reflections on the Past" and Paul Jones will give his "Perceptions of the Future." Bishop William M. Cosgrove will confer the diplomas to 104 graduates of the Class of '78.

Proper packaging prevents damage to mailed parcels

Postmasters Herbert Backs of Granite City, William Clinton of Madison, and William Singleton of Venice, are reminding postal customers in the Quad-Cities that if the Postal Service's new packaging guidelines are followed they can virtually eliminate damage to their parcels.

Checks at bulk mail plants show that more than 80 percent of all articles damaged in the mails were improperly packaged.

While the regulations and guidelines adopted recently by the Postal Service are detailed, they boil down to several basic steps that can help assure safe delivery, the postmasters said.

First, select a strong carton. Use fiberboard box with the "burst-test" number printed on it.

If the box says, for instance, 125 pounds it can be used for mailing many types of merchandise weighing up to 20 pounds.

When a person is shipping dense or heavy materials, such as books, stronger boxes are required. For 10 pounds of books the Postal Service recommends a box with a 175-pound burst-test.

The Postal Service suggests that wrapping paper not be used on cartons. If a wrapper is torn or lost in transit, the mailing address can disappear. Further, the paper adds nothing to the package's strength.

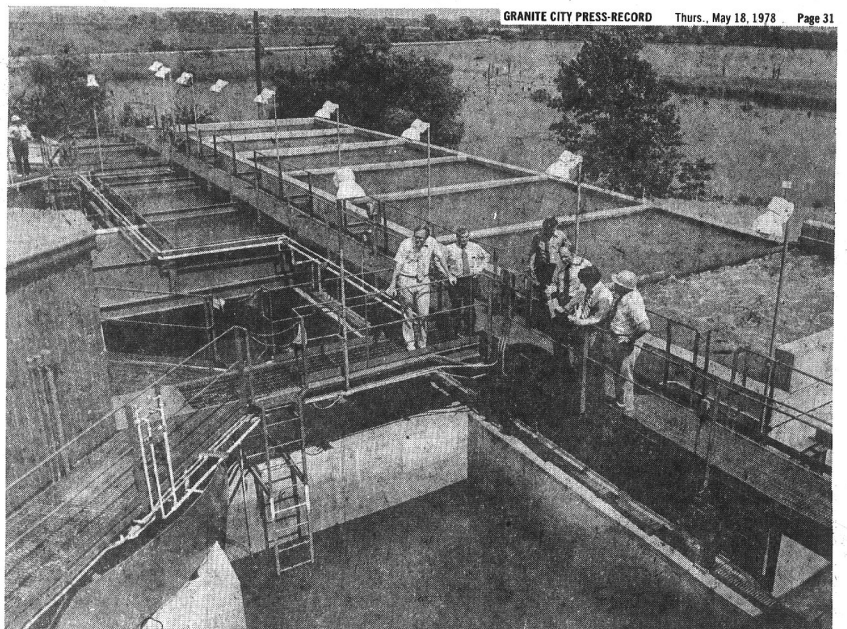

The use of masking and cellophane tapes for closing or sealing is prohibited. In transit they tend to peel off, and they have little strength. String is not recommended. If twine loosens, it can readily catch on processing machinery.

Instead, parcel post customers are urged to use the pressure-sensitive reinforced tapes. They are almost unbreakable.

When marking a package "Do Not Bend," it is required that the container have stiffeners which will protect it from being bent.

In using a second-hand box, it is important to mark out addresses that may have been printed on it along with extraneous numbers that could be confused with the ZIP codes.

A final suggestion: Enclose a return address card in the package so that it can be returned if the mailing label is damaged or lost.

TREATMENT PLANT TOUR. Granite City Steel's wastewater treatment facilities near Horseshoe Lake will be among the points of interest visited by the public at a centennial open house tomorrow and Saturday. The photograph was taken when the treatment plant was dedicated in 1977. Among those in the group in the foreground are, left, Illinois Governor James R. Thompson; second from left, Granite City Steel Vice-President Donald Cairns; and, third from right, National Steel Corporation President Howard M. Love.

Bus to Sr. Fest Day

Bus transportation will be provided for Granite City residents to attend Senior Festival Day on Friday, May 26, on the square in Belleville. Particulars of transportation and reservations for a picnic lunch are available by calling 876-8223.

Activities for the day will begin at 10 a.m. with the music of Art Steppig and His Serenaders.

The RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program) orchestra will play from 11 a.m. to 12 noon and then the Air Force marching band, Shades of Blue, will perform from noon until 2 p.m. A contingent of clowns will entertain throughout the day.

Part of the entertainment is being sponsored by American Federation of Musicians Belleville Local 29.

Forty booths, displaying arts and crafts made by area older persons and home-baked goods, plus information about services of interest to the aging, will be set up on the square for the day.

Information will be available from a broad range of service organizations, including Social Security, the Bi-State Transit System, geriatric complexes and nursing homes, home extension services, the Visiting Nurses Association, the Diabetes Association and others.

In case of rain, the festival will be held at the Belleville Area College uptown campus, 200 S. 3rd St., Belleville.

Ballet, disco, aerobic dancing

Classes in basic ballet will begin Monday, May 22, meeting in Room 2015 of the SIUE Communications Building from 6 to 8 p.m. Instructor is Audrey Tallant, and registration is $20.

Two classes titled "Disco Dance 1" will be offered. Section A will meet from 5 to 6 p.m. Tuesdays, beginning May 23. Section B will meet from 7 to 8 p.m. on the same dates. Registration for either class is $10.

Two classes will be offered in "partner disco dance." Section 1 will meet from 6 to 7 p.m.; section 2 will meet from 8 until 9 p.m. Registration for either section is $15 per couple.

"Advanced partner disco" will be offered from 9 until 10 p.m. Registration is $15 per couple. Prerequisite for advanced partner disco is partner disco dance.

All disco classes will meet Tuesdays in the multipurpose room of the Tower Lake Commons Building. Instructor for all the classes will be Pauline Cavale.

Classes in aerobic dancing will meet Wednesdays, starting May 24, in Room 0207 of Classroom Building 111. Ballroom dancing will meet from 6:30 until 8 p.m. Registration is $20 per couple. Partner disco dance will meet from 8 until 9 p.m. Registration is $15 per couple.

FOUR WHEELS TAKEN

A set of four chromed wheels, valued at $125, was stolen from the unlocked shed at the home of Joe Schalk, 2233 Dewey Ave., during the weekend.

Charge youth in burglary

Mark D. Cox, 17, of 2416 Delta Ave., was named in an informational document from the Madison County state's attorney's office this week alleging burglary.

Cox is charged with an April 1 burglary at Coolidge Junior High School during which a baseball bat was used to break a window to gain entry and numerous rooms and lockers were searched.

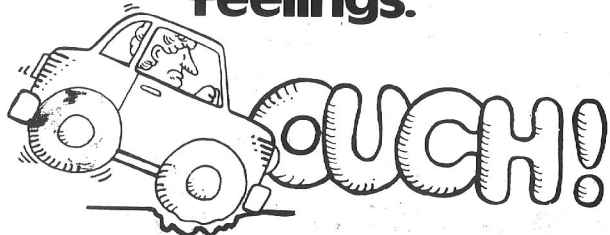

The horn was torn from the fire alarm, causing the horn to sound and glass in the fire extinguisher cabinet was broken. Glass in several doors was broken and milk was thrown around the cafeteria.

A video-tape camera and three stopwatches believed taken in the burglary have not been recovered.

Police said the questioning of two juveniles led to Cox being sought by detectives. One of the juveniles had an April 3 Press-Record article about the Coolidge burglary in his possession, which caused officers to question him about that burglary.

Cox was taken into custody at Nameeki and Fehling Roads the night of May 10 for questioning about another incident and police applied for the informational document against him. Bond was set at $10,000 and he was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

THE DANGERS OF SMOKING are demonstrated vividly by Hiner Crigler, nationally-recognized stop smoking speaker, during the second set of clinics this spring in the YMCA in Granite City. About 14 persons attempted to quit smoking during that set of clinics, which continued for five sessions. "Graduates" of Crigler's clinics are forming a club to encourage each other not to return to smoking.

Children learn through play

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Home Economics Adviser

Play is much more than recreation and fun for children. It contributes to their total development. Through play children develop physical strength and coordination, effectively master their bodies. Infants work hard to grasp colorful mobiles and cradle gyms. Toddlers patiently work to pick up tiny articles with their fingers, and pre-schoolers methodically work to control needle and thread to string beads.

As children gain control over their bodies their confidence in themselves grows and the feeling "I can do it" is strengthened. Through play children learn in their own way. Imagination and natural curiosity lead them to many important discoveries. Each discovery is a new learning or builds on what the child already knows.

The more play opportunities the young child has where experimentation and discovery are involved, the more learning occurs. Having playmates is important to the development of social skills such as sharing and getting along with others. Young children are basically self-centered and have to learn the value and importance of considering others' rights and needs.

Children learn to cope with the realities of their world by handling them in play situations. By imitating important grown-ups in their lives, children also begin to understand adult roles. Children need varying kinds of play opportunities and materials to help them develop as well rounded individuals. They need opportunities to play alone to develop their own resourcefulness.

They also need time to play with others to develop cooperation skills. They need physical activities to help develop their bodies. They need opportunities to explore and solve problems.

Children need props to help them use their creative abilities. Such props might include dress-up clothes, child-size typewriters, desk, chalkboard, paints, play dough, papers and glue. Play combines learning and the development of positive feelings about self and others. It is an important way for children to discover the world on their own.

Scott in crackdown on water polluters

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has announced the beginning of a major new crackdown against water polluters in Illinois.

The announcement came as the attorney general filed 14 enforcement cases before the Illinois Pollution Control Board alleging various water pollution violations, including violations of the reporting and effluent requirements contained in water pollution permits.

The permits were issued under the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System ("NPDES") which was established by the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972, and which the state began to administer in late 1977.

Scott said that "during the time the system was being administered by the United States Environmental Protection Agency, very few actions were brought in Illinois. Now that the state has been delegated the authority to enforce this program we will take vigorous action to assure compliance."

"The dischargers should know that we consider this permit system and the reporting and monitoring requirements under it to be at the heart of the Water Pollution Control Program in this state and that we intend to enforce those requirements very strictly against everyone."

Scott noted that in each of the enforcement actions he would seek to recover in penalties any economic savings which the violators were able to accumulate as a result of their failure to comply with the discharge or reporting requirements.

"The recovery of these financial penalties will remove every economic incentive and excuse industry has for polluting, and at the same time will compensate the state for the costs of bringing suit."

The complaints were developed by Scott's office in conjunction with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. The defendants are located throughout the state, with many of them being in the Chicago area. The charges range from discharging raw sewage, cyanide, phenols, ammonia and other contaminants and the deliberate falsification of monitoring reports, to the failure to have a qualified operator for a treatment plant.

Carter's problems of own making?

By ROBERT ESTILL

Washington Bureau
Will the new, tough Jimmy Carter fare any better with Congress than the smiling "Mr. Nice Guy"?

Will Republicans get a big boost in the 1978 Congressional elections and the 1980 national elections if a Democratic president remains unable to push his major programs through a Congress controlled two-to-one by members of his own party?

There is no unanimity on these scores among Illinois congressmen.

But Illinois Republicans and Democrats alike contend many of Mr. Carter's problems on Capitol Hill are of his own making.

"One of the problems is that nobody on the Hill knows who is really speaking for the president," said Rep. Tom Corcoran, R-Ottawa.

And when they do know who should be speaking on a given subject, they cannot be certain the spokesman reflects the president's views, according to

Rep. Ed. Derwinski, R-Floresmoor.

Derwinski, a member of the House International Relations Committee, said they are not even certain that such a high-ranking official as Secretary of State Cyrus Vance reflects Mr. Carter's current thinking on foreign policy.

"The breakdown is at the top," said Derwinski.

"The president is so much his own man that he jumps his own ship periodically."

The criticisms could be dismissed as purely partisan if they came just from Republicans. They do not.

Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Evanston, a member of the powerful tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, complains that Mr. Carter has "no cohesive team" — no specific people with precise lines of authority.

"You hear whatever you want to hear, depending upon whom you talk," said Mikva.

Rep. Paul Simon, D-Carbondale, is one of Mr. Carter's least strident Democratic critics. But he welcomes the news that the White House will attempt to shed Mr. Carter's wistful image.

The president ought to be tougher," said Cong. Simon. "I have told Vice President Mondale that the president ought to veto a few bills."

"I think they have to be firm. When they say they are going to do something, they have to do it."

Simon said he believes the president has to follow through on veto threats, even if it is one of Simon's own oxen that is being goaded.

The Carbondale Democrat supports a waterways bill which contains funds to build a new lock and dam near Alton. Mr. Carter has threatened to veto that bill because, in his estimation, it does not provide high enough charges for barge operators.

"Once the president says I am going to veto it, it is like me telling my kids they have to be home by 11 o'clock. I had better stick to it; otherwise, I've got trouble every night."

Simon believes Congress is not likely to respond to veto threats unless convinced Mr. Carter means to follow through.

He cites a minor bill on timber rights which Congress approved and Mr. Carter signed, despite opposition by both the Justice and Agriculture departments.

But things are not always as simple as a question of the merit of the bill, Mikva said.

In the example cited by Simon, the bill was minor but one of its key supporters was Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, Mikva noted.

Mr. Carter can ill afford to rile Ullman unnecessarily if he wants to get anything vaguely resembling his tax reform and relief package through Congress.

Mikva, who does not regard Mr. Carter as a "pusycat" in his dealings with Congress, said the political realities are that "some bad bills have to be signed, and some good bills have to be vetoed."

Continuing conflicts between Mr. Carter and a Democratic

Congress will give Republicans plenty of fodder for the November elections, but the political value of that breach is harder to measure for the 1980 presidential election.

Currently, Mr. Carter is being measured against public expectations of "what he should be doing," noted Simon.

If the president seeks reelection, he will be measured against another candidate — and that is a different ball game, Simon added.

Mikva believes Mr. Carter's "Major deviations" with Congress will not interfere with any political plans for 1980, because he can always "run against Congress," even though it is controlled by his party.

"There have always been two parties — a national party and a congressional party," said Mikva.

He adds that Congress rates lower with the public than the lawyers whom Mr. Carter recently chided.

UNDERCOATING—RALPH'S TEXACO 2ND & MADISON AVE.

Pressing on . . .

Avoiding injuries at the net

To be a proficient net player in tennis it's necessary to learn the following skills: forehand volley, backhand volley, half-volley and the overhead.

The only other skill involved in net play is not really a skill at all, even though some players consider it one of the basic fundamentals of the game; it's called "ducking."

Ducking, of course, is the artless tennis player's alternative to volleying. Its purpose is simply to avoid personal injury.

I know that some of you are chucking to yourself right now, thinking that nobody really regards ducking as a skill in tennis.

But you're wrong. There are many inexperienced players who regularly consider it when faced head-on with a sizzling passing shot. Occasionally they make that decision too late.

That's when they swear (loudly) to quit tennis and return to gardening or fly casting.

Most of these timid tennis players eventually overcome their fears, as you probably have. One day they'll delay the split-second decision and have no choice; in an attempt to protect their perfect smile they'll stick the racket out and make a perfect volley. Everyone will say "Nice shot!" and never again will they consider ducking.

On that very day their reflexes will improve tremendously. Instead of covering in the doubles alley, they'll boldly drift out into the middle of the court.

There, with their feet spread wide, their knees bent, their racquet head up and their eyes wide open, they'll dare anyone to hit the ball near them, let alone at them.

Park guide for the handicapped

The federal government distributes hundreds of millions of pages of printed instructions every year — and most of the output is useless.

However, the National Park Service has just published something that deserves favorable notice because it does a lot of good for a lot of deserving Americans. It is a handy guide entitled "Access National Parks, A Guide for Handicapped Visitors."

Too often, handicapped Americans stay clear of national parks, national forests, recreational areas and other places of natural interest and beauty because they fear they will be "in the way," will not be able to negotiate some of the areas with wheelchairs, crutches or canes, or for some other reason that might embarrass them.

William J. Whalen, National Park Service director, in making the new guide available ($3.50), says he hopes the information it contains "will enable those with handicaps to see and enjoy the great heritage found in all the parks across the country."

Some of the information he is talking about is most interesting and helpful. For instance, at Appomattox Court House National Historical Park in Virginia (where Gen. Robert E. Lee surrendered to Gen. U.S. Grant in the Civil War), it is noted that a wheelchair is available at the visitor center and uniformed staff are available to provide any needed assistance to the handicapped. Also, a ramp over the parking area curb provides access to the path that leads to the visitor center.

Many parks have Braille signs, and it is noted at Acadia National Park in Maine that the doors are not automated but water fountains can be reached by wheelchair visitors and small children. While there are no Braille signs at Acadia, visually handicapped visitors will delight in the different geological and natural wonders if accompanied by another visitor.

At Redwood National Park, Calif., handicapped persons might find it useful to know that the visitor center is entered from street parking at sidewalk level. Also, the door to the rest room is 33 inches (83.82 cm) wide.

At Lyndon B. Johnson National Historic Site in Texas, there are lots of special accommodations for the handicapped. One is a provision, when visiting LBJ Ranch, for a special pass for privately owned vehicles transporting wheelchair-bound visitors so they can tour the birthplace, school and cemetery areas.

There even are warnings regarding some areas so that the handicapped do not find themselves in difficult situations. It is noted, for instance, concerning Hawaii Volcanoes National Park, that some of the self-guided trails have steps and difficult grades.

Information regarding altitude and other natural aspects of park areas is provided — as guidance for those with heart conditions or other physical ailments.

$3,240 earnings cutoff

Q. I am 63 and collect Social Security benefits. I know I can earn $3240, and then they can take $1 for every $2 over that.

Do they count take-home pay?

A. You are allowed to earn $158.40 for the year. That means that if I earn $5000 I can only keep $518.40 of my Social Security benefits for the year.

A. You are allowed to earn $3240 in gross salary before losing any of your Social Security benefits. If you earn $5000 in gross salary you would lose $1380 in Social Security benefits, presuming you worked and earned over $270 in every month of the year.

So you figured it correctly. If your case you are allowed to keep $518.40 of my Social Security benefits for the year.

Chamber music

6-week series

Performing for the first time on its own this summer, the Chamber Music Series at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer six evening programs, beginning June 29.

Concerts will be presented each Thursday in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center, with curtain time at 8:15 p.m.

"Members of the audience will be transported backward in time to the drawing rooms of private homes of Vienna, Paris, London, Salzburg, Linz and Prague while they listen to the works of such composers as Haydn, Mozart, Schubert, Brahms, Beethoven and Mendelssohn."

"It's a good series this year, and we hope it will continue to be appealing to a large segment of the musical audience," William Tarwater, chairman of the SIUE department of music, says.

The series in its present form was offered for the first time in 1975 under the auspices of the Mississippi River Festival. At that time, there were no organized chamber music activities during the summer months.

"The series was established to serve an audience market that was not being served in the area."

The departmental chairman adds, "It is obvious that the series-filled a significant need for both the audience and the performers. It continues to serve that need."

Joe Pival, member of the SIUE music faculty and program coordinator for the series, relates that chamber music was first performed in private homes of Europe. "In those days, all cultural people played an instrument, while professional musicians played several."

"As the genre developed, it became more fashionable to listen to the music than to play. And as the music became increasingly difficult, it became more specialized and fewer people were able to play it."

"This gives the audience a better chance to develop a feeling of intimacy with the music without being distracted. In Pival's opinion, it is the type of music that the professional turns to for relaxation — and a kind of pleasure that no other field offers."

Tickets may be purchased for the season or for individual performances.

For the entire series, tickets are $8. For individual concerts, tickets are $1.50 for SIUE students with identification, $1.50 for senior citizens and $2 for other persons.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the University Cultural Arts Services office at 692-2996.

Programming and performing artists will be announced later.

Woodmen plan benefit dance

The Modern Woodmen of America Camp 2781 will host a benefit dinner-dance at 7 p.m. Monday, May 29, to raise funds for the Madison County Catholic Children's home in Alton.

The event, which will include a buffet supper and dancing to a live band, will be held at St. Louis International. Sportmen's Club, Route 203-north of Interstate 70-55, adjacent to St. Louis International Raceway.

A donation of $5 per person is requested. Reservations may be made by calling 452-1423.

Meeting on trend to single living

Single living is on the increase in this country, according to Donald Taylor, professor of sociology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. A meeting on the topic is set for next week.

Two of the contributing factors to the rising number of singles, Taylor said, are the increased rate of divorces and the fact that more young adults are opting to stay single longer or not get married at all.

Unwilling to remain together, couples are calling it quits at the rate of one million each year, according to Taylor.

Today, more than seven million "broken" families are headed by women, along with a million and half families "parented" by men.

The number of unmarried adults in the U.S. increased from 12 million in 1960 to more than 16 million a decade later, he said.

The median age at marriage, which had declined from 1900 to 1960, has begun to climb again.

To take a closer look at the social change, the department of sociology at SIUE will hold a symposium on the topic, "Single or Happy," May 23 at 2:30 p.m. in Room 6312 of the Peck Classroom Building.

A panel made up of representatives of different segments of "singleness" will explore "pleasures and problems of a living single life."

Members of the panel include: Freda Mark, international president of Parents Without Partners, Inc., an organization for divorced people and widows with children; Jeanne French, Midwest educational administrator for Parents Without Partners; Franklin J. Simpson, director of student activities; and Sandy Womack, a Ph.D. degree candidate in education at SIUE.

The symposium is free, and the public may attend. Additional information on the symposium may be obtained from the department of sociology.

Arrest 5 in disturbance

Five young men from Missouri and one from Granite City were arrested after disturbances in downtown Granite City at 12:45 a.m. Tuesday.

The owner of the Upper Level Lounge, 18th and State streets, told police a group of young men, entered and were refused service.

He said they then became loud and abusive, made threats to patrons and employees of the lounge and then left. Police noted another disturbance in the street near the lounge and alleged a fight broke out.

Officers quelled the fight and arrested Mark W. Hollowell, 19, Hazelwood, and Albert J. Yates, 26, Richard A. Keller, 17, Glenn E. Smith, 19, and Leonard A. Kinworthy, 18, all of Florissant.

As one was being led to a squad car, Thomas A. Carney, 24, of 2429 E. 25th St., allegedly approached, called the youth in custody a name and then kicked him. Carney also was arrested.

All were charged with disorderly conduct and they were released later Tuesday morning after posting $50 cash bond each.

Textbook fees eased by state loan program

At the beginning of the 1977-78 school year, 656,105 textbooks — or $3.5 million worth of books — were loaned to Illinois kindergarten through third grade students. It was the first major distribution in the state's new textbook loan program.

Soon after the delivery vans had pulled away from the school loading docks and the dust had begun to settle, the Illinois Office of Education began looking at how well the fledgling program was working. How smoothly had the ordering process gone? Did the books arrive on time?

To get the reactions of the schools and school districts, the state education office surveyed a representative sample of the 656 public school districts and 752 nonpublic schools participating in the 1977-78 program. Opinion questionnaires were sent to 352, and nearly three-fourths — or 262 — responded.

Overall, school administrators expressed satisfaction with the program. The computer-supported system, they felt, had proven itself efficient; 84 percent rated the mechanics of the program from good to excellent.

Eighty-one percent indicated they had encountered no problems in ordering textbooks and 66 percent said they had no problems after receipt of textbooks. And 97 percent said textbooks were received within the promised time frames.

The Illinois General Assembly in 1977 appropriated $3.5 million for the program. This year, $5 million is earmarked. Next year, that could grow to between $7 million and $9 million.

The survey found that the program had not affected textbook rental fees in 60 percent of the districts. Concurrently, however, 73 percent of the districts reported their textbook rental fees did not increase last year. This is being interpreted as an indication that the program provided some relief from the normally expected inflationary increases.

One particularly encouraging finding of the survey was that 80 percent of the local administrators reported no additional administrative expenses due to the program, an important finding inasmuch as the entire state appropriation goes for textbooks, with no allowance for any state or local expenses.

Two problems cited by the survey respondents were (1) the initial time frame for ordering books was too short; and (2) the required student parent request forms cause difficulties.

As a result of the survey, information on the textbook program will be provided in early December to give districts an extra month and a half. In addition, the textbook advisory committee is looking at the second problem and will be making recommendations to the state superintendent.

An advisory committee, chaired by Dr. Ben Hubbard of the Illinois State University Department of Education Administration, with Dr. William Altie, Glenview School District superintendent as vice-chairman, assisted the State Board of Education in establishing the textbook program.

In the spring of 1977, the Illinois Office of Education began the first phase of the program. Using an internal team approach, the state education office compiled a list of nearly 15,000 secular books available from publishers bonded to sell textbooks in Illinois.

This list was then verified and distributed to school districts. By May 1977, IOE had collected the textbook requests from the schools and had issued more than 4,700 purchase orders to 30 textbook firms. By mid-June, schools began receiving textbooks.

In this first year of the program, kindergarten through third grade students could request one book apiece. In 1978-79, student requests in grades four through seven are to be honored. In 1979-80, high school students will have their turn.

A secular textbook, according to the definition in the state regulations, is a printed volume "consisting of a systematically arranged presentation of principle which may be used by students as a primary resource of study for a body of knowledge suitable for use in the public schools."

Public Act 79-961, which made Illinois the 27th state to pass legislation providing for a textbook loan program for school children, reads:

"The Illinois Office of Education shall provide the following free of charge to any student in this state who is enrolled in grades kindergarten through 12 at a public school or at a school other than a public school which is in compliance with the compulsory attendance laws of this state and Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 — the loan of secular textbooks listed for use by the Office of Education."

The foregoing service shall be provided directly to the students at their request or at the request of their parents or guardians. The Office of Education shall adopt appropriate regulations to administer this section and to facilitate the equitable participation of all students eligible for benefits hereunder."

Driver injured in two-car collision

Donald Simpson, 25, Fairmont City, was injured when his car and the auto of Thomas Rains, Herrin, Ill., collided near the viaduct on Route 11 by J&L Auto Salvage during the weekend.

Rains was charged with driving too fast for conditions. He said he came over the top of the viaduct and saw Simpson's auto turning into the intersection. He applied his car's brakes, but the wet pavement into the turning lane, deputies said.

Simpson was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for pain to his left forearm and left leg. He was released after treatment.

Nat Adderley in concert

Nat Adderley, acclaimed by the sponsors of the first annual Jazz Festival at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as "one of the finest jazz musicians America has produced," will be featured in concert and in a workshop during the final day of the festival, Friday.

The concert is scheduled at 8 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center. Admission will be $3 for students with identification and $5 for non-students.

The workshop, which will be free and open to the public, will be held in the University Center from 1 to 5 p.m.

Other events Friday will include a concert by the Millennium Quintet at 11:30 a.m. in Meridian Ballroom, featuring Bruce Purse on the trumpet, and a concert by the Old Guys Jazz Band at 6 p.m. at the Faculty Club.

Ramon Williamson, professor of music at SIUE and Jazz Festival coordinator, said, "Adderley is without question one of the finest jazz musicians America has produced."

Excelling on his chosen instrument, the cornet, Adderley has also blown trumpet, melophone and French horn with some of the most important figures in the musical world.

Adderley is credited by jazz critics with helping contribute to the sounds of Cannonball Adderley (Nat's late brother), Sonny Rollins, J. J. Johnson, Tony Bennett and Lionel Hampton.

Three months ago, Adderley formed his own group — the Nat Adderley Quartet — and has released his first album with the group, titled "Hummin'."

The first annual Jazz Festival is being held by the Office of Cultural Arts Services, the SIUE department of music and the Black Student Association. The week-long series of events opened Monday with a concert by the Edwardsville High School Stage Band at 11:30, the first of a series of daily non-concerts by area high school jazz bands.

Army offering enlistments to non-graduates

The Army has initiated an experimental program in the Midwest to allow young men without high school diplomas to enlist, according to Lieutenant Colonel John Sharp, U.S. Army St. Louis District recruiting commander.

To qualify, a non-graduate must score within the top three of eight mental categories on the Armed Forces Qualifications Test.

The program is designed to open Army opportunities to men who have not had the chance to complete their high school education. Once in the Army, these men will have the option of taking advantage of Army educational advancement programs.

The program offers young men the opportunity to take advantage of a wide range of Army benefits not usually available in civilian life — if they act now," said Col. Sharp. "This opportunity will only be open for a limited period of time. Local Army recruiters are ready to schedule free, no-obligation testing appointments for young men who want to see if they can qualify."

The Army has traditionally sought high school graduates because they have been more likely than non-graduates to successfully complete training. The program has been initiated because Midwestern non-graduates in the top mental categories are said to complete training successfully as frequently as do high school graduates from other parts of the country.

Illinois auto fatalities continue drop

Illinois traffic fatalities continue to decline, according to provisional figures released by Lynn E. Baird, superintendent, Illinois State Police.

They show that during the first four months of 1978 there have been 457 fatalities, 124 under the same period last year. Of these, 265 were rural fatalities, a decrease of 34 from last year. During the month of April there was a statewide total of 125 fatalities.

"An analysis of Illinois traffic accidents for 1975 and 1976 has indicated to us that certain areas had a higher accident rate than others and indicated to us some of the leading causes of these accidents, such as driving under the influence of alcohol, speed, improper passing, following too close, and failure to yield the right of way," Baird said.

In an effort to further reduce these fatalities and all accidents, the Illinois State Police has initiated a concentrated traffic enforcement program. The program will continue through the end of June. With strict enforcement of specific violations at specific locations and times, the Illinois State Police will be able to attain their objective, "to keep you alive," Supt. Baird said.

On recruiting duty here

Private Cynthia Pittman of Granite City has an Army assignment right in her home town.

For the next 30 days, she will work as a recruiter aide at the Army Recruiting Station at 1206 Niedringhaus Ave., where she enlisted.

Pvt. Pittman's primary duty as a recruiter aide is to serve as a link between the Army recruiters at the station and the young people in the area.

She will assist Staff Sergeant Larry Baker, who originally signed her up, and the other recruiters at the station. Pvt. Pittman will talk about her Army experiences and about Army opportunities with graduating seniors from local high schools, including Granite City High School South, where she was graduated in 1977. Pvt. Pittman is the daughter of Lester and Barbara Pittman of Granite City.

Why did Pvt. Pittman join the Army? "I wanted to get training for a good career," she explains. "I also wanted the chance to travel and to meet new people." Pvt. Pittman plans to make the Army her career. "I like my job and Army life," she says.

She enlisted at the Granite City Army Recruiting Station six months before she left for basic training. She signed up under the provisions of the Army's Delayed Entry Program, which allows a recruit to begin duty up to 12 months after enlisting, while receiving credit for time in service for rank, pay grade, and assignment considerations from the original date of enlistment. The Delayed Entry Program lets a high school senior reserve the Army job for his or her choice while still in school.

Pvt. Pittman undertook basic and advanced individual training at Fort Jackson, S.C. She trained as an administrative specialist, and will be assigned at Fort Bragg, N.C., after she completes her recruiter aide assignment. She chose her Army job, and was guaranteed it in writing by the Army when she enlisted.

PVT. CYNTHIA PITTMAN

It was during advanced individual training that Pvt. Pittman was approved for recruiter aide duty. The program is highly competitive, and selection reflects outstanding ability. Pvt. Pittman is enthusiastic about her 30-day duty.

"I want to let people know about the things the Army can do for them," she says. Pvt. Pittman is on hand at the Granite City Army Recruiting Station to talk with interested young people about her experiences as a recent Army enlistee. She and the recruiters will discuss the job training, educational assistance, travel options, and many other benefits the Army offers enlistees. Quoted Citizens may call at 876-5850. Out of town residents may call collect.

Long a symbol of cooking elegance, the chafing dish is a boon to today's busy hostess. It enables her to serve graciously with a minimum of effort. Although chafing dish-like utensils were found in the ruins of Pompeii, the chafing dish did not achieve its modern form until the nineteenth century. The glories of chafing dish cookery, which reached a popularity peak during the 1890's have been rediscovered.

Fascinate guests and family alike with hot dips, hearty main dishes, spectacular desserts and steaming beverages.

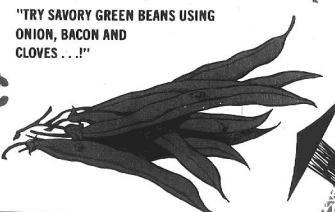

Look for the free recipes to use with your chafing dish the next time you are in your nearby Tri-City Supermarket.
